PARKER COUNTY

Fire Season

Dry, windy conditions fueling outbreak of fires

By Randy Keck

The Parker County Commissioners Court on March 14 instituted a 60-day burn ban in all unincorporated parts of the county in response to an elevated danger of wildfires.

Local fire departments have been busy not only with their own territories but also in mutual aid situations.

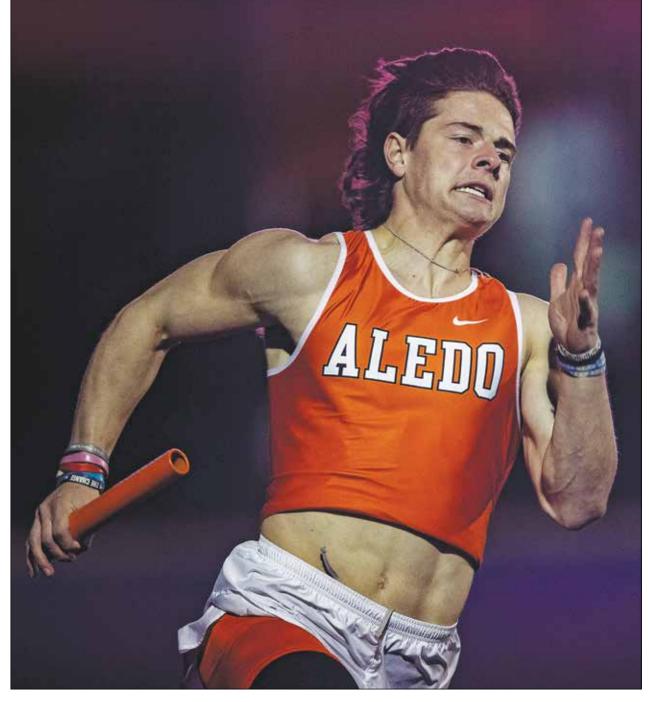

Parker County Emergency Services District No. 1 Fire Chief Steve Watson said the department has been on numerous mutual aid calls, and has helped on fires in Tarrant and Wise Counties as well.

"It's been busy," Watson said. "It's very weather-dependent, which is usually the case in the winter fire

Director of new employee childcare center named

By Mercedes Mayer

Aledo ISD has named Becky Albertson as the director of the new employee childcare center scheduled to open in late summer of 2022.

Albertson has been the director of the Primrose School of Southwest Arlington since 2017, and she was the director of a KinderCare Learning Center in Arlington from 2012 to 2017. Prior to that, Albertson operated an in-home childcare service and also taught in a 2-year-old room at a childcare center. She was an assistant director at a childcare center before moving into the director role at KinderCare.

Becky Albertson has been named as the director of the new Aledo ISD employee childcare center, set to open in the late summer.

"We are thrilled to be able to offer our employees infant to pre-K childcare services right here in Aledo ISD for the first time, and Ms. Albertson has the extensive qualifications and skills needed to launch this program," Aledo ISD Superintendent Dr. Susan Bohn said. "With 20-plus years of childcare experience - including opening a new preschool - we know she will be a huge asset because of her knowledge base and understanding of the complexities of operating a childcare center. We are excited for Ms. Albertson to join the Bearcat family."

WILLOW PARK

Residents voice concerns about Ice House volume

City looking for resolution

By Rick Mauch

Going out to a concert can be exciting. However, when the concert comes to you, not always so much.

Especially if, as several residents of Willow Park have said, they don't want to hear live music coming into their house - even if they didn't have to buy a ticket. They say they are paying a higher price, a lack of peace and quiet.

At the March 8 meeting of the Willow Park City Council, a few residents took to the podium to voice their concerns about the noise level from the live music being played at the Parker County Ice House.

Chad Dodson said he actually likes the music being played, but it's not having a volume control that he has a problem with.

"When I hear it in my own house and sing karaoke with them, it's no fun," he said.

"Please know that I am for responsible economic development, 100 percent for that - and I love live music. I've been to probably hundreds of live shows," said Hope Olsen. "But really, just not at the expense of us residents. It kinda feels like a violation of privacy in our home. It really feels helpless when there's nothing you can do about it.

"I would just encourage the council to continue investigating this, passing ordinances if needed. And I also encourage the council to inform the public of what is going on."

Willow Communications and Marketing Director Rosalee Hoffman said the city has been looking into the issue ever since officials were first made aware of the citizen concerns back in fall of 2021.

"We attempted at the time to form a working group with city staff, Ice House management, and a citizen, but the citizen we invited to participate did not show up for the meeting," Hoffman said. "After

Nine accused of sex trafficking at center

Gary Borders

Nine employees at a Bastrop County facility that cares for young victims of sex trafficking have been accused of trafficking those same girls, according to the Austin American-Statesman.

One employee of the state-contracted Refuge Ranch has been arrested on an undisclosed charge and more arrests are anticipated, according to Tara Olah, a director with the Texas Department of Family and Protective Services.

The facility employed more than three dozen employees to provide 24-7 care for the girls. According to Olah, DFPS received multiple phone calls in January to the statewide intake hotline that "alleged sexual and physical abuse, sexual exploitation, neglectful supervision and medical neglect" at Refuge Ranch, according to the Statesman.

"This is appalling and is a disregard of these children," U.S. District Judge Janis Jack, who presided at a hearing Thursday evening, told state staff, including Family and Protective Services Commissioner Jaime Masters and contract monitors. "And we had to wait for eight calls to come in before we took already trafficked children out of this situation. This is a system that remains broken."

Jack pointed out it took almost six weeks and several phone calls before the girls were removed from the facility. The Texas Rangers have been called in to investigate.

Refuge Ranch opened in 2018 on 50 acres in Bastrop County and is designed to house girls ages 11 to 19. The state ordered the shelter to close on Friday.

Task force to address teacher shortages

At the behest of Gov. Greg Abbott, a task force has been created by the Texas Education Agency to address staffing shortages facing the state's public schools.

"Teachers play a critical role in the development and long-term success of our students," Abbott said. "This task force should work diligently to ensure that best practices and resources for recruitment and retention are provided to districts to ensure the learning environment of Texas students is not interrupted by the absence of a qualified teacher."

The Teacher Vacancy Task Force is intended to ensure Texas schools are equipped to deal with these challenges, relying heavily on the input of current and former teachers. More than two dozen superintendents, administrators and teachers have been appointed to the task force.

The state has long endured a shortage of certified teachers that has been exacerbated by the pandemic. A survey of more than 900 teachers last year by the Charles Butt Foundation revealed 68% of those surveyed were seriously considering leaving the profession.

Drought conditions stable in February

Precipitation in February was close to normal, but Andrew Weinberg with the Texas Water Development Board predicts the entire state will be in drought conditions by the end of spring.

According to the U.S. Drought Monitor, only a few counties in Texas, mainly in far south Texas and along the Gulf Coast, are not considered to be in drought conditions.

The most severe drought is occurring in the Texas Panhandle, through the Great Plains and into the Big Bend area.

Panel reviews Rolling Pines wildfire

An independent panel reviewing a prescribed fire that got out of control at Bastrop State Park recommends requiring more personnel present and smaller burns at the park.

The Rolling Pines wildfire in January involved nearly 800 acres and forced about 150 households to temporarily evacuate. No private property damage was reported. The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department two days later formed the panel to investigate why the fire got out control.

The panel also recommended that bulldozers be required to be on site during prescribed burns, which are intended to lessen the risk of large-scale fires such as the Bastrop County Complex Fire in 2011, which destroyed nearly 1,700 homes and scorched almost 35,000 acres.

Members of the panel included fire experts from across the United States.

Kaufman woman arrested for timber theft

A Kaufman woman has been arrested for timber theft in Hopkins County, according to the Texas A&M Forest Service.

Frances Charline Cole, 51, was charged with hiring a logging company to harvest timber on 42 acres on which she had entered into a real estate agreement but never actually bought.

A timber deed filed with the county clerk indicates she was paid $8,000 for the timber. However, the logger returned to cut the tract and discovered she had backed out of buying the land.

"Essentially, the logger paid her for timber that wasn't hers, that she had no rights to sell," said Jonathon Keller, Texas A&M Forest Service Law Enforcement Investigator.

New COVID-19 cases rise, but deaths, hospitalizations drop

The number of new COVID-19 cases in the past week in Texas rose to 31,965, up about 5,000 compared to the previous week, according to the Coronavirus Resource Center at Johns Hopkins University. However, the number of new deaths reported dropped to 678, down about a third from the previous week.

The number of lab-confirmed COVID-19 hospitalizations in Texas dropped to 2,008, down 29% from the previous week, according to the Texas Department of State Health Services.

Supporting Olcott

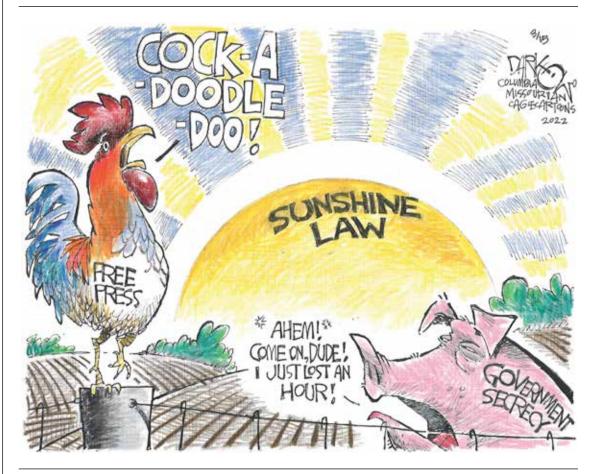

Even though I am too young to vote in this Primary, I am still able to come to the decision that Mr. Olcott is the best candidate for HD60. He has proven over the past several years his outspokenness and enthusiasm for conservatives by leading Parker County Conservatives, and always being the first one to stand up for our values and beliefs. I support Mr. Olcott because he is an admirable and honorable man of courage and knowledge. I trust Mr. Olcott when he says he will not support taxpayer-funded lobbyist groups down in Austin; I think this should be a top priority for voters to consider when voting for HD60. Who has the backbone and character to say no to these lobbyists? Who isn't afraid to be the only one to stand up for what's right and moral? Who is going to make the biggest impact in Austin? I believe that's Mike Olcott.

At the root of democracy: Free flow of information

Kelly Shannon

As Ukrainians fight and die for democracy, Russia is arresting its own citizens who are protesting the war and threatening prison for journalists who report the truth.

The attempt to crush a democratic government and stop the flow of information comes as American news organizations and transparency advocates observe Sunshine Week from March 13-19, a time for highlighting government openness and a free press.

Certainly, let's commemorate the freedom of information we enjoy - and constantly strive to improve - in the United States. But it's imperative to contrast it with what's happening around the world and understand how control of internet content. devastating it is when a government allows only its own tightly controlled version of events to trickle out.

Earlier this month, Vladimir Putin's government changed its domestic media laws to make it a crime to distribute what it deemed to be "false news" about the war. Doing so could mean up to 15 years behind bars. Many news organizations pulled journalists out of the country or shut their operations; the government also cut off access to major social media sites, the Neiman Journalism Lab reported in its thorough rundown on the severe restrictions.

The censorship amounts to an "information dark age," according to the Committee to Protect Journalists, which called on journalists everywhere to stand in opposition.

Thwarting free speech isn't only happening in Russia. We simply need to think back to the Olympics a few weeks ago to remember the spotlight on China's crackdowns on dissent and free expression and its

And, of course, there are other examples.

It's astounding - and a lesson for us all.

Blocking information is a favorite weapon of authoritarian regimes. Information is essential for democracy to flourish. The ability to examine public records and tune in to independent news sources enables us to speak out and hold our leaders accountable.

In our state, we are fortunate that the Texas Public Information Act, originally known as the Open Records Act, was established in the early 1970s to ensure citizens have the right to watch over government. It gives us the ability to obtain public documents and largely forces state and local officials who want to withhold information to argue to the attorney general's office - an umpire, of sorts - as to why information should be kept secret. The law presumes all records are open unless a specific exemption in law states otherwise.

In short, the Texas law is intended to give an advantage to the individual information requestor, not the government, unlike some states' information laws.

The law is not perfect. There has been incremental weakening of it over the years, but open government supporters work every legislative session with lawmakers of both political parties to strengthen the act. We should fight with all our might to protect it.

In the end, in a democracy, the people get to judge their leaders and decide whether they will remain in office or get voted out. The free flow of information is the people's path to questioning authority. That, ultimately, is real power.

the latest incident, we are re-forming that working group with a few other citizens participating.

"We hope to be able to arrive at a consensus that will make for good neighbors all around. We value our citizens bringing us their input on this issue and appreciate their support as we work towards a resolution."

Olsen said she called the Parker County Sheriff's Department and was advised to do exactly what she did, come speak at a city council meeting. While she did not do so right away, she said she watched the next meeting online after her initial complaint in the fall. She was at first encouraged by a representative from the Ice House coming before council.

"I watched the manager/owner/ person come and talk about being good stewards of the community. He understood that there was a noise problem, that they were going to address it," she said. "Fast forward to Wednesday (March 2), Texas Independence Night. It was so loud I could hear the words in my house."

Efforts to reach the Ice House for their response to complaints were unsuccessful as of deadline for this article.

"If they were here to speak after me, I'm sure they'd spin it in a positive way," said Dodson, noting that, "I can't even listen to my TV."

Dodson reminded the council that he brought the issue up last year. He said he was also told by a law officer that the noise ordinance only applies to residents and that he should go to city hall, which he did.

"The next day I followed up in person at city hall to make my complaints about the loud music. They were helpful, and I appreciate that," he said, adding that he also spoke with City Administrator Bryan Grimes.

"The city council is responsible for keeping loud music contained," Dodson continued. "The city council's responsibility is also to restore peace and maintain the peace within a community, the peace which has very much been disrupted by the Ice House."

Travis Brandon Reeves said he believes the noise level from the Ice House could even have an effect on home values.

"When word gets out that there are businesses that are disrupting our daily lives — as this gentleman (Dodson) said, singing karaoke in our homes..." he began. "My son is with me. He could not sleep on a school night at 9 o'clock, my daughter either. If we're trying to build greatness in our schools, how are our kids supposed to function if they can't get adequate sleep?"

Reeves suggested the problem could be resolved with some concessions.

"I know that community is important, that's why we're here, whether that's ordinances, whether that's concessions from the businesses that are coming, the businesses that are here, that all needs to be considered," he said. "And it needs to be considered for this community, because this community was here before all of it."

The evening ended with the council agreeing to continue discussion at the March 22 meeting, taking a closer look at the city's noise ordinance.

"I think it would be helpful for everyone to review what is currently in place," said Place 5 Councilman Nathan Crummel, suggesting that they look at perhaps three options for proceeding, along with studying enforcement more.

Grimes stressed he does not want a repeat of the latest noise incident, but added that, "We can't wave a magic wand and on March 22 it all goes away. It's going to be a process."

Albertson has also served as a certified Cognia Review Team member. Cognia is the accreditation organization for all Department of Defense Education Activity schools.

"I am so excited to be joining AISD as the new director of the childcare center at the Early Childhood Academy," Albertson said. "Early learning has a special place in my heart and has been my passion for over 25 years. It is an honor to be selected to serve the families of Aledo ISD, and I am eager to meet and get to know the families that will be enrolled this fall."

As a part of the $149.95 million Aledo Bond 2019 program, Aledo ISD's new employee childcare center will open late summer 2022 inside the district's new Aledo ISD Early Childhood Academy located in the former Vandagriff Elementary School. After undergoing $1.3 million in renovations during the late spring and summer of 2022, the Aledo ISD Early Childhood Academy will open and house this childcare center for ages 6 weeks through Pre-K, the district's Pre-K program for 4 year olds, and other early childhood special education services offered through the school district.

Also a part of Aledo Bond 2019, Vandagriff Elementary is moving to the current McAnally Intermediate School building while McAnally Intermediate students will move to the new McAnally Middle School and switch to a 6-8 grade configuration.

Registration, pricing, and other information for Aledo ISD employees wishing to enroll their children in the new employee childcare center will be provided at a later date.

One-Act play advances to bi-district

Aledo High School's one-act-play "Ruby's Story" by Ron Osborne won first place in district last week, and will advance to bi-district next week.

The show was also awarded Best Overall Technical Crew. Individually, Maddie Hinckley and Jennna White were named to the All-Star Castle Edington was name All-Star Technician, and Hannah Brown was honorable mention.

The show is a flashback to June 1944. In England, Allied troops are massing for an invasion. On a small farm in Appalachia, a different kind of war is about to rage. Here, Walter and Grace share a home with four daughters: Rose, who struggles to understand why Stan – an immigrant coal miner and the love of her life – abruptly left to join the Polish Free Forces; Helga, who fears for her husband who's in the Army and – like Stan – assigned to a combat unit in England; Frieda, the family's adventure-seeking daughter, who works in a factory making uniforms and new friends, one of whom she can't bring home; and teenage Ruby who yearns to be the next Edward R. Murrow, but who must first come to grips with a family falling apart at the seams.

D-Day speeds the dissolution process, but at its core is Walter's seeming allegiance to his German heritage, no matter that Helga's husband and Rose's fiancé are at war against all things German. There - through every battle - is Grace, hoping liberal doses of humor, love and understanding can restore harmony. It is adult Ruby - back for a funeral, seeking answers to questions that haunt her - who retells the family's struggle against prejudice, fear, delusion and self-loathing.

Aledo will compete at bi-district on Thursday, March 24, at Northwest High School in Justin. The plays begin at 12:45 p.m. and Aledo will be the final performance at about 5:45 p.m.

After the performance the group will receive the judge's critique and then attend the awards ceremony afterwards to see if they advance to area competition. The performances are free and open to the public.

Aledo pitchers combine for two no-hitters in one day

By Nolan Ruth

History has again been made in Aledo sports. With the baseball and softball seasons in full swing, the Bearcats and Ladycats went into Saturday with big matchups on the docket. With both teams at home, a significant portion of the town was on hand to witness both teams complete no-hitters on the same day.

It is rare enough in each game to throw or even witness a no-hitter, but Ethan Jaques and Kayleigh Smith shined in their performances and accomplished the rare feat in spectacular fashion.

The day started with the Bearcats taking on South Grand Prairie in the Drew Medford Memorial Tournament. With the two games played on the Thursday prior, it was Jaques's turn to pitch. After walking the first batter of the game, Jaques retired the next 11 South Grand Prairie batters. In the top of the fourth inning, he inadvertently hit a batter but retired the next eight batters with no damage done.

Jaques got in a bit of trouble in the final inning when his fatigue started to show. After getting the first out, he hit the second batter to get a runner on. The next batter flew out, but the following two both walked to load the bases. With the game scoreless, Jaques was in danger of giving up the go-ahead run without even allowing a hit.

"I went out and talked to him," head coach Chad Barry said. "I asked if he was alright because I had someone ready to go, and he just said 'Don't take me out of this game. Let me finish this game.' He had earned it, and he went out and finished the inning. I'm extremely happy for him."

Thankfully for the Bearcats, the final batter popped up to shallow center and Cade Pulido made the play to finish the seventh inning. However, the Bearcats still needed a run, and Barry knew it.

"When they came off the field, I told them 'Fellas, he's pitched seven innings of no-hit baseball. Get him a run and don't take this away from him. This is a special moment for him.' Then they did it."

With one out and the bases loaded, Ryan Jones lightly hit a ball up the third base line that appeared to be bending foul, but the third baseman made contact and bobbled the ball, allowing Max Belyeu to score and make the no-hitter official.

'The defense was amazing behind me," Jaques said after throwing his first no-hitter. "It felt amazing. I couldn't have asked for anything better. It was a good team tle from the start as both teams were perfect through the first three innings. Aledo broke up Brewer's bid with a base hit in the fourth, and then scored three runs in the fifth, while Smith remained perfect into the sixth inning.

The game was a defensive bat-

"Perfect games are what I get really excited about," Smith said. "Those are really rare because nobody can make an error; you can't walk anybody, either."

A controversial call in the fifth inning took away the perfect game bid with two outs in the sixth inning, just four outs from a perfect game. However, she retired the next batter to end the inning and needed only four pitches to end the game in the seventh without allowing a hit.

"I thought it was really cool that my last district opener got to be a no-hitter," Smith said after the game. "I'm just glad we won, though."

Head coach Heather Myers knows how special a pitching staff she has and was not shy about it after Smith threw her second of the season, and sixth for the team this

"She just came off of concussion protocol," Myers said about her ace-pitcher. "I knew that she was itching to get back on the field so when she was cleared, there was no way I wasn't going to give her the ball. It just goes to show the bulldog mentality she has and her leadership that she's shown for three years before this. It's really impressive."

Bearcats sweep tournament

Abilene High up next By Nolan Ruth

The non-district schedule is nearing completion for the Aledo Bearcats baseball team. The team has played many tough teams in the process and ended up on top the majority of the time. Usually, the game came down to just one run, as was the case in the last week of non-district when the team rounded out the Drew Medford Memorial tournament.

For the first time the Bearcats were one of the host teams, giving them a home field advantage. In the first game of the tournament, Nolan Catholic came to town and immediately took a three run lead in the first inning. Cade Pulido scored the first run for Aledo in the bottom of the first. Neither team scored again until Andrew Cambre knocked in Max Belyeu in the fourth inning to make it a 3-2 deficit.

The Bearcats took the lead in the sixth inning when Pulido tripled to score Trace Mazon before being driven in by Belyeu. Nolan scored two runs in the seventh inning to reclaim the lead, but a walk opened the door for a five Bosten Dwinell and Ryan Jones got on base, allowing David Jones to knock in Ryan Jones. Dwinell off the win in the seventh inning scored on a wild pitch in the next and Bosten Dwinell was credited at bat to walk it off 6-5.

The second game against Weatherford went almost the due to inclement weather, but home on Friday, March 18.

same. The Kangaroos scored three quick runs in the first inning to get the Bearcats chasing. All went quiet until the fifth inning when Weatherford scored three more runs. Aledo finally got on the board with a two run home run by Belyeu to make it 6-2. The sixth inning turned the tide when two errors and run inning that put the Bearcats in front for good 7-6. They polished with the save.

Friday's games were canceled

Saturday saw the biggest result yet. Ethan Jaques took the mound against South Grand Prairie and had the day of his life as he threw a no-hitter and Aledo walked it off again 1-0. The Bearcats closed out the tournament with a 5-3 win over Mansfield Lake Ridge, a game in which Jaques was put at shortstop and got two hits in three at-bats, just hours after completing a no-hitter.

With the tournament sweep, the Bearcats improved their record to 8-4 and will face Abilene High at

SOFTBALL

Aledo pitching stays sharp

Seven no-hitters and counting

By Nolan Ruth

Pitching is an invaluable asset for a baseball or softball team to have. More often than not, pitching will make or break a team. However, a pitcher can't do everything. The defense has to stand like a stone wall behind their pitcher. Only then can one team prevent another from scoring.

After a 3-1 victory over Abilene Wylie to end non-district play, the Aledo Ladycats opened up the district schedule with an afternoon game against arch-rival Brewer on Saturday, March 12. The game was a tight one as both teams were perfect defensively until the fifth inning when Aledo scored three runs. Brenlee Gonzales, Maddy Jarvis, and Claire Byars all touched home.

Ace-pitcher and North Texas commit Kayleigh Smith had not allowed a base runner all game, thanks in part to the defensive play of Madysen Boutwell, Presley Hull, and Texas Ray in the infield, along with Marissa Powell who made a few stellar plays in center field.

In the top of the sixth inning, the perfect game was lost on a walk, but Smith shut Brewer down the rest of the way, ultimately striking out seven and throwing 58 strikes on 85 pitches to earn the no-hitter and solidifying a 3-0 win.

Then on Tuesday, March 15, Missouri commit Nathalie Touchet took the rubber in Granbury. The Ladycat offense struck early to give Touchet a three-run cushion in the first inning. An early error allowed a base runner for Granbury, a run that would later score on a passed ball, but Touchet struck out two in the inning without allowing a hit.

That was the last sign of life for the Lady Pirates. Touchet settled in and did not allow a hit all game, while the offense exploded. With a run in the second inning, five in the third, one in the fourth, and two more in the fifth, Aledo had a 12-1 lead going into the bottom of the fifth inning.

The final three Granbury batters were retired with ease, and the game was called by run-rule. Touchet completed the second Ladycat no-hitter in as many games, striking out eight, walking one and a pitch-strike ratio of 66-43.

Aledo now has seven no-hitters on the young season between four different pitchers. Smith, Touchet, and Gonzales have each thrown two, while Jenna Austin has one - which also happened to be a perfect game.

The Ladycats now hold a record of 14-2 and will continue district play with a game against Azle at 5 p.m. on Tuesday, March 22 at Ladycat Park.
