TO ALL THE COUCH POTATOES

I'm not an "out and about" kind of person. When given the option between going out and staying in, I'm going to pick "staying in" 75% of the time. It's a habit that I picked up during quarantine and haven't managed to shake. When you can get groceries delivered right to your door, why bother going anywhere?

But putting this book together, I realized just how much there is out there to do. Things which I certainly can't do from the comfort of my living room.

If you're not sure what to do with yourself this summer, look no further: This guide's got it all. Whether your passion is music, history, sports or spending time in the great outdoors, there's something in here for you.

Or maybe you just need an excuse to get out of the house. Fear not. If you're anything like me, you'll find an event or five that catches your eye.

And why sit around at home when there's so much out there to do?

HAPPY TRAILS

For hiking, biking or just dorking around in the wild, Central Wisconsin has miles of paths for any fitness level. Here are some of the more interesting ones to check out.

EAU CLAIRE RIVER TRAIL, WESTON

Explore some of the area's most beautiful woods, river shoreline, wildflower meadows and small boardwalk bridges over streams and river channels. Because the paths are mostly flat with gentle slopes, this is a good choice for families. Two blocks away, on Ryan Street, you'll connect with the Mountain Bay Trail. Tips: Best parking is on Ryan Street, just north of Schofield Avenue. There's also limited parking at the east end of Thomas Avenue for access to the mid-point of this trail.

NINE MILE FOREST RECREATION AREA

Miles of mountain biking through one of the county's most popular forest units. Beginner to expert single-track mountain hiking trails. $5 day pass, $30 summer season pass. Hiking and running allowed on ski trails in summer. Take Highway NN to Red Bud Road.

CEDAR CREEK TRAIL, ROTHSCILD

Easily the most scenic and pleasant ride in the area, this winding trail offers close views of Wisconsin River. Pedal through forests, meadows, and a red covered railroad bridge perfect for pictures. Tips: The best place to start is behind Stoney Creek Inn, or at the bike/ped bridge that crosses the Wisconsin River. The path starts and ends at Military Road, two blocks from the River Street Park. There, you'll also find the bridge crossing the river. Park at the River Street Park next to the bridge, or in the south end of the Cedar Creek Mall parking lot.

RINGLE TRAILS

Located near the Marathon County landfill outside of Hatley Smooth areas for beginning mountain bikers, but also some jumps, gaps, and banks for more experienced riders. There's also a skills track with progressively harder obstacles and some skills obstacles in the parking lot. Mostly designed by professional builder FlowTrack Mountain Bike Trails. New trails are being added all the time. Access the trailhead off Hwy. 29, at the big sign for the landfill.

SYLVAN HILL

Located on the north side of Wausau near the Tribute Golf Course, Sylvan Hill possesses downhill mountain biking trails with a skill area and pump track at the top. The route is essentially one main easy loop with five jump lines that become progressively more difficult. Don't take these trails lightly- the harder ones are definitely for more expert riders. Access parking lot at the end of Coates Lane behind Wausau East High School. Donations are encouraged.

UNDERDOWN RECREATIONAL AREA

Located in Lincoln County, about 25 miles north of Merrill. Follow Hwy. K about 11 miles north of Merrill, turn east on Copper Lake Ave. Find miles and miles of winding wilderness trails (including an Ice Age Trail segment). There's now a completed boardwalk that creates a full loop trail around Underdown Lake forests and past many lakes. There's also roadside parking on the park's southwest area just off Horn Lake Road.

BIG EAU PLEINE PARK

Located west of Mosinee, 18 miles southwest of Wausau. Start on Hwy. 153 west from Mosinee and head to Eau Pleine Park Road then turn south and go 3.5 miles. A developed wilderness trail system provides nine miles of shoreline and forest access paths on this peninsula in the flowage. Good family hiking and biking, as the trails take you through a couple of picnic and beach areas. Also includes singletrack mountain biking. Wilderness, kind of, but not remote, with a main road that goes straight through the middle of the park. Plenty of space for a full day's outing.

TRILLIUM TRAIL

Rib Mountain. Off of Hwy. N, just west of SAFER Fire Station. This new trail allows for some great bike riding or running around the Rib Mountain area. Traverses on and off of Trillium Lane in Rib Mountain, connects to Fox Glove Road, allowing one to avoid a busier road and the big hill on Fox Glove. Connects with Azalea Road, which leads to the bike bridge Rothschild and the Cedar Creek Trail. Parking either at the base of Rib Mountain or at Doepeke Park and using the off street path to get to Trillium is a good option.

BUS. 51 BIKE TRAIL

Kronenwetter. Starts at Happy Hollow Road and extends to Flanner Road, allowing a smooth ride from the Kronenwetter to Mosinee. Get there via the bike route leading from the Cedar Creek trail in Rothschild, which itself can be accessed from Rib Mountain via the Trillium Trail.

OTTER LAKE

Lincoln County, east of Tomahawk. About 15 miles north of Merrill, take Hwy. 5 east off Hwy. 51 then to Stevenson Road, follow the signs. This part of the county's forest system is found in the Harrison Hills area. The lake itself is beautifully clear with a beach perfect for swimming, plenty of natural trails and rustic camping nearby.

NOTE: It's too small for a separate listing, but there is a new little trail along Old Grand Avenue in Rothschild from the intersection with Kort Street to the intersection with Grand Avenue.

BERRY FARMS

Our guide to pick-your-own strawberry, blueberry and raspberry farms across central Wisconsin. Most also offer pre-picked. Strawberry season generally starts mid- to late-June and runs for only a few weeks. Raspberry and blueberry season begins in mid-July. Always call ahead of conditions. Berry patches sometimes get picked over and need a day or two for ripening.

Tip: Northern fields tend to ripen a few days later than those to the south. So if a Stevens Point-area berry patch is done for the season, you might still find some around Merrill and Antigo.

The Humble

A new downtown treasure offering candy, apparel, and community connection

By Tina L. Scott

A mix of faith, family, and a sweet tooth has given new life to a downtown Merrill location: The Humble, a retail shop owned by Johanna Doyle, is located at 923 E. Main St. in Merrill adjacent to The Gathering Table, in the former Ye Olde Sweet Shoppe building.

Operated by Johanna and her husband, Jim, The Humble opened in early September 2024, and carries a combination of Christian apparel, home décor and hand-crafted candy. “I am the sole owner of The Humble,” Johanna said, “but my husband does make the fudge and candy in-store. ... We partner to make it all flow.”

“The purpose behind our store is to bring something new and fresh to Merrill, to offer a family-friendly place to shop, one that brings a positive and uplifting experience to our community,” Johanna said. “This has been such a blessing for us,” she said. “We’ve had incredible feedback from the Merrill community and even from surrounding areas like Lake Tomahawk, Antigo and Schofield. There’s nothing quite like The Humble around here.”

From craft shows to a storefront

The journey to The Humble began when Johanna felt called to start a ministry in 2019.

“I had a sense that it might involve a business, but I didn’t know exactly what that would look like,” she said. In late 2023, Johanna launched an online Christian apparel store and participated in local craft shows. While it was a start, she longed for more direct interaction with customers.

“I realized I love connecting with people face-to-face,” Johanna said. “That’s when I knew I wanted a physical location. Merrill is our home, and we have such a heart for this community. It felt like the perfect place to grow.”

In January 2024, Johanna reached out to Dennis Grefe, the owner of a closed candy shop downtown, about purchasing the building. Now, The Humble is located in the former Ye Olde Sweet Shoppe building, offering the same handmade candies that the shop was known for over the years and a whole lot more. When they purchased the building from Dennis and LuAnn Grefe, they also purchased the recipes for their candies.

"It just seemed like a good fit, especially with The Gathering Table next door," she said. "When Dennis offered us not only the building but also the recipes for his candy, Jim was thrilled."

A sweet partnership

Jim Doyle, who has long enjoyed making candy during the holidays, embraced the opportunity to take his hobby to the next level. "He makes the most amazing buttercreams, caramels, chocolate-covered Oreos, and bear paws," Johanna said. "We use many of Dennis's original recipes, but Jim has really made them his own."

The candy, displayed in gleaming cases, quickly became a hit. "The candy has been just as popular as the apparel," Johanna said with a smile. "It's a close race between long-sleeve sweatshirts and Jim's homemade fudge."

A store with heart

The Humble also offers Christian-themed décor, bagged coffee and loose tea, catering to customers seeking gifts or inspiration. Apparel ranges from newborn sizes to adult men's and women's clothing, ensuring something for everyone.

"We want The Humble to be more than just a store," Johanna said.

"We want it to be a place that reflects our values and brings people together. Everything we carry is designed to inspire or bring joy."

The shop's name, too, carries deep significance. "One day, Jim and I were driving down County Road K, and we saw donkeys in a pasture," Johanna said. "It reminded me of Jesus riding a donkey instead of a horse — choosing humility over grandeur. That's the heart of what we want The Humble to represent: humility and faith."

It's about community

Since opening, The Humble has become a gathering spot and a draw for visitors from across the region. "We've had people come in just to chat and share stories," Johanna said. "It's been wonderful to see the connections we've built in just a few months."

"Funny how many times I hear in a day, 'It feels really good in here, it's so peaceful, I just don't want to leave,' and others say, 'Merrill really needed a store like this, I'm so glad you are here,'" she said.

"We moved to Merrill in 2007 from a bigger city and absolutely fell in love with this community," Johanna said. "It brings us such joy to give back in this way. We love Merrill as if we have lived here all our lives; we are thankful for so many things in our community. Contributing to the growth of the city, to being a part of something bigger than us and to getting people out together just feels like the right thing to do."

Looking ahead, Johanna and Jim are excited to continue serving the community. "We're so grateful to everyone who has supported us," Johanna said. "We love Merrill, and we're thrilled to be part of its downtown revival." She said they are working in conjunction with other downtown businesses to plan some special events for this summer.

Whether it's for a cozy sweatshirt, a box of homemade candy or a moment of connection, The Humble offers something special to anyone who walks through its doors. The Humble is open Tuesday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Saturday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Closed Sundays and Mondays. You can also find many of their products online at thehumblellc.com.

Five adventures on the Wolf River

By James Card

In Langlade County, the Wolf River is a broad and burly trout stream of the north woods but as the river flows south near Fremont, its character changes and so do the recreational and cultural opportunities for having some fun.

Sturgeon watching

One of the greatest conservation success stories in Wisconsin history can be viewed up close and personal along the banks of the Wolf River every spring. At the turn of the century, the sturgeon was in great decline but people along the Wolf River and the Winnebago chain rallied in a decade's long effort to protect the giant fish. This is chronicled in the book People of the Sturgeon: Wisconsin's Love Affair with an Ancient Fish, which makes for an excellent weekend read. Now the fish is populous enough that a limited spearing is held every winter where anglers stare a large hole in the ice and ready themselves for hours on end to lunge a spear into the depths.

For wanting to get a glimpse of this huge fish in another setting, the best place is the New London Sturgeon Trail, a paved path that runs along County Trunk X west of New London. The spawning season brings the sturgeon upriver in mid-April to early May and the sturgeon often come close to the shoreline and roil the waters with their massive bulk, as some of them are six feet long.

Wine tasting

Gill's Landing in Weyauwega is a well-known boat landing and pit stop for boaters on the Wolf. Just a skip up the road on County Trunk F is the only vineyard and winery in the county, and it is aptly named Rio Lobo (as in Spanish, Rio is river and Lobo is wolf).

The winery is owned and operated by the Beyer family and the entire clan pitches in during grape-picking season. Since their first planting of grapes in 2014, they have produced numerous types of wines and have expanded to brewing beer. They also have become known for their homemade pizzas served on Fridays and Saturdays. Visit www.riolobollc.com for events and info.

Explore the Old Wolf

The Mukwa Wildlife Area west of New London is part of the greater Wolf River watershed and holds ancient oxbow lakes and old channels where the Wolf River once flowed. It's composed of 1,300 acres of state-owned land and it is a bottomland hardwood-type of ecosystem. There are many silver maples and white oaks mixed with sedge meadows.

It's a big place to ramble for all types of outdoor enthusiast: the mixed hardwoods and meadows make for an excellent destination for birdwatchers. There are some bowhunters that trek deep into the woods to hunt for legendary swamp bucks. For anglers, the old oxbows hold solid populations of bowfins (also called dogfish, grinnel and lawyers). It is a prehistoric fish that has not evolved much since the Jurassic period. Bowfins are known to be one of the hardest fighters in the freshwater world pound for pound.

Fremont jams

The village of Fremont along the Wolf River has a population of 636. At the Buss Stop, a popular watering hole on Wolf River Drive, a sign hangs on the wall that reads, "Our town is so small we don't have a town drunk, so we all take turns."

What is interesting is that a town of Fremont's size has a lively music scene that rivals much bigger cities. If one were to take a listing of all of the live music in Fremont on a given weekend, then research the live music offerings in Green Bay, La Crosse, Stevens Point or Appleton, Fremont would either beat or tie them with live music.

The Fremont Chamber of Commerce does a good job keeping track of all these events on their Facebook page. Just about every bar, grill, pub, tavern and campground in the Fremont area has live music on a regular basis.

Besides the music, there is the Webfooters Water Ski Show that's been held on the river every summer since 1976. Some of their skiers have performed in Guinness Book of World Record events by being part of massive human pyramid water-ski formations. See www.webfooters.org for their schedule.

White bass frenzy

Fremont is nicknamed the "White Bass Capitol of the World." It's for a good reason. Every spring when the white bass run up the river, anglers stand shoulder to shoulder on the shoreline and the boat traffic is dynamic to say the least. Many anglers find it worth it. There is no limit on white bass in the state of Wisconsin. It is a goodeating fish and it is not uncommon to see anglers fill buckets and coolers. It is possible for an aggressive angler to catch enough white bass to supply a year's worth of Friday night fish fry dinners. Local anglers even developed the Wolf River rig for white bass. It's a set-up with a heavy sinker to get the line down fast in the Wolf's rushing water column, and there is a dropper line tied to the main line up above the sinker. The dropper line stretches out with a fly that resembles a minnow.

SPRING BIRDING HIKE

RIB MOUNTAIN STATE PARK

No matter how goofy Wisconsin's weather gets around March, I always know I've got something to look forward to once I start hearing the birds chirping in the morning. If you're anything like me, then this hike hosted by the Friends of Rib Mountain State Park sounds like the perfect place to enjoy a late spring morning, surrounded by the songs of birds, spring breeze's caress and the kiss of light through the branches — before the mosquitoes have come out for blood. 7–8:30 a.m. Bring water and tick repellent and be prepared to hike some uneven trails with downhill and uphill areas. In the case of questionable weather, check the Friends' Facebook page or call 715-680-9480 to check if it's still happening.

PADDLE PUB CRAWL

JULY 26

D.C. EVEREST PARK

This year marks 11 years of the popular Paddle Pub Crawl, a self-proclaimed “at-your-own-risk paddle event involving water, friends, live music and watermelons.” This year, the event is keeping its entertainment local, with Wausau-based acoustic duo Caleb Delaney and Emily Zaal set to perform from atop a floating stage. HMONG WAUSAU FESTIVAL

JULY 26-27

PEOPLE'S SPORTS COMPLEX, WAUSAU

Although it started out as a sports festival, it's grown into one of the largest celebrations of Hmong culture around. Sports still play a central role here, with flag football, soccer and volleyball taking place on the sports complex fields, but there's stuff here for everybody; there are dance performances, plenty of food vendors and tons of shopping. Also, there's a pretty epic fireworks display in the evening. People travel from all over to check out this event, but Wausau residents are lucky enough to have it right in their backyard. WISCONSIN VALLEY FAIR

JULY 29–AUG. 3
MARATHON PARK, WAUSAU

A lot has changed with the Wisconsin Valley Fair. With major musical acts charging higher and higher fees and lowered attendance, the fair shifted to offering other types of sports and entertainment. But it also includes two nights and the fan-favorite demo derbies... not to mention all of the carnival rides, animal shows and general spectacle that the fair always brings.

All Grandstand events except the Demolition Derby are included with gate admission, which costs $8 before 1 p.m. and $12 afterward. Kids 10 and under get in free.

Grandstand gates open at 4 p.m. to allow visitors to set up lawn chairs or blankets. Free seating includes the Grandstand itself, the grass berms and the area between the reserved seating and the stage.

For more information, visit <https://www.wisconsinvalleyfair.com>, call the fair at 715-261-1539 or email info@wisconsinvalleyfair.com.

LOGJAM

AUGUST 8-10
RIVER PARK, MOSINEE

LogJam is one of those events that could only happen in Central Wisconsin — where else will you find historical reenactors — folks dressed as and working as blacksmiths, pioneers and other early Wisconsin types, some of them truly acting in character, which is always a trip — log rolling, ole-timey canoe replicas (that you can ride!) and a corn hole tournament all in one place? And did we mention there's live music? The best part, though? It's all free. It's a little party in the middle of Mosinee that can be as fun for adults as it is for the family. logjamfestival.org

PIZZA ON THE FARM

THROUGH EARLY NOVEMBER
STONEY ACRES FARM, ATHENS

Pizza on the Farm is almost always on people's summer 'must lists' — including our own. Watch the sun set on the horizon as it shines through the vines while sipping one of the beers brewed on site by brewmaster Josh Wright, throwing back a wood-fired pizza or both. It's just about as good as summer gets. Also, the farm hosts live music, so check out <https://stoneyacres.farm/pizza-on-the-farm> for the whole lineup.

Alternatively, check out Pizza in the Orchard at Edgar's Rock Ridge Orchard, another great option for a Thursday night filled with live music. See Rock Ridge Orchard on Facebook or visit <https://www.rockridgeorchard.com/public-events> for the full lineup.

THE BOYS OF WINTER: A MUSICAL TRIBUTE TO THE TEENAGE SKI JUMPERS OF THE 1930S

SEPT. 14
RIB MOUNTAIN
AMPHITHEATER

This show is new this year, although Upper Peninsula-based singer-songwriter Bill Jamerson has performed others like it in the past — you may remember last year's tribute to the Civilian Conservation Corps. Jamerson has a 90-minute show lined up about the ski jumping tournament boom during the days of the Great Depression. Part concert, part history lesson, part ode to the inhabitants of Wisconsin past, Jamerson will tell stories and sing original songs (with guitar in hand) about how ski jumping came to America and took hold among Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan youth. This is an event all its own, filled with true stories about people both ordinary and extraordinary and plenty of music.
