PUBLISHER’S LETTER

Father’s Day!

Dear Reader,

Father’s Day is just around the corner—a perfect time to reflect on the men who raised us, guided us, and helped shape who we are. Fathers, notably, were there at the very beginning of our lives—and have hopefully stood by us ever since. Everyone needs a good father. A good father takes his responsibilities seriously, especially the profound responsibility of raising children.

We can learn so much from a good father. He teaches, he walks with us through the victories and tribulations of life. He is there when we need him most.

I remember when I was heading off to school, I asked my father for advice I could carry with me. He shared something timeless—essentially the advice Polonius gives his son Laertes in Shakespeare’s Hamlet: “To thine own self be true, and it must follow, as the night the day, thou canst not then be false to any man.” Simple words that carry profound wisdom: authenticity and integrity serve as the foundation for a life well-lived.

The best fathers provide both roots and wings—stability to know where home is and confidence to venture into the world. They teach us to face challenges with courage, to treat others with respect, and to understand that character matters more than achievement.

My father taught me that listening is often more important than speaking, that keeping promises builds trust that no amount of explanation can restore once broken, and that showing up—consistently and reliably—speaks volumes about what we truly value.

To all the fathers who show up day after day, who balance guidance with freedom, who demonstrate love through both words and actions—thank you. Your legacy lives on in the lives you’ve touched and the values you’ve instilled.

Windmills have more history than you know

BY CINDY STEVENS
ARGUS CORRESPONDENT

Did you know that our area was once considered the Great Plains in the 1700s, which was considered unfit for farming? During this time it was called the “Great American Desert.” Droughts would follow rainy spells; the sun and wind would dry up surface moisture. Looking out at my sandy acreage and weeds, I would agree with that assessment.

Native Americans had not used windmills from what we currently know. The settler’s European styles of windmills were impractical on the plains as they were large, expensive, and required constant maintenance as their cloth sails had to be furled by hand daily. Let alone finding good timber to hold up to our wind speeds. That Oklahoma song just started in my head which aptly applies lately this spring in WI.

In 1854, Daniel Halladay developed the American-type windmill. It was smaller, less expensive, shipped nearly anywhere, and built easily. Remember the Sears catalog? Its sails were held into the wind by a weight built of easily replaceable cheaper wood like pine. Oh yeah, have lots of those to go along with all the sand here on the homestead.

These new windmills were ideal for settlers on the plains. They could pump water from great depths at a steady rate. They could shift into the prevailing winds functioning well in fast and slow winds. And to top it off, they required little maintenance, so they were called self-governing windmills.

Windmills were often among a homesteader’s most prized possessions. The water pumped by windmills was used to cook, bathe, drink, water crops and animals, wash clothes, and more. These mills were simple, well-constructed, and dependable. Did you know country home front porches faced windmills for prevailing cooling breezes? Often the weather could be predicted days to hours before by watching which way the wind blew the windmill tail.

Over time, windmills became visual icons in the Great Plains. Tall windmills were often the most obvious signs of civilization. Many people growing up on the plains had fond memories of windmills from cool drinks after working in the field to learning how to swim in livestock tanks.

By the 1880s, vaneless windmills were growing in popularity. These windmills had hinged sections that could pivot in and out of the wind individually. This allowed them to regulate the speed of the wind. Then came the self-oilers replacing the steel models in the early 1900s. After WWII, the windmill began to fade from history.

You can still find a few of these standing in Waushara County off in a forgotten area of an abandoned farm covered in vines. They seem to be begging to be released to find the wind again. I have heard the sweet comforting sound of a windmill humming away pumping water for cattle. It is a rather comforting sound of order and peacefulness. I have heard the screeching moans of abandoned massive set windmills on old grazing lands in Texas. I sort of felt their rusty mechanical moans myself for a far simpler, less complicated time-frame in history.

Maybe you have a windmill on your property. What kind is it and as an antique, do you know its history? If it is suffocating in vegetation, why not let it at least hold its formal glory against a summer sky and defiance in a winter storm? If it is in pieces rusting in the back acreage, why not let some parts go for garden decor to remind someone of our historical past?

If you have a windmill, why not send in your pictures to the Argus. Perhaps we can showcase a piece of Waushara history we drive by daily and yet seem have forgotten about. Could be very interesting sharing our past together!

Make a Father’s Day meal Dad can savor

Families celebrate Dad in unique ways on Father’s Day. Gifts are customary, but so is a delicious meal Dad will love.

Many dads will appreciate a meal that goes above and beyond the ordinary, preferably something that is hearty and delicious. These “Pecan-Stuffed Pork Chops” from “Jon Bonnell’s Texas Favorites” (Gibbs Smith) are a great dish to serve family style when everyone gathers around the table for Father’s Day.

Pecan-Stuffed Pork Chops

Serves 7-8

- 1 large rack of pork chops, bones in
- 4 tablespoons butter
- 1/2 yellow onion, chopped
- 2 ribs celery, chopped
- 5 cloves garlic, minced
- 11/2 cups chicken stock
- 1 teaspoon kosher salt
- 1/4 teaspoon cayenne pepper
- 2 cups panko bread crumbs
- 2 cups

- 2 cups roasted pecans, chopped
- More kosher salt and pepper, to taste

Clean the rack of pork well and cut in between the bones to get thick individual pork chops. Cut a large slit down the back side of each chop and insert the tip of a knife 2 to 3 inches inside the chop to create a pocket for the stuffing. Do not poke completely through the pork or the stuffing will not stay in.

In a large saucepan, melt the butter and sauté the onion, celery and garlic until the onion has slightly softened. Add the chicken stock, salt and cayenne and bring to a light simmer. Pour the contents into a mixing bowl and add the panko bread crumbs and pecans. Mix together and let cool to room temperature. Stuff as much of the mixture into each pork chop as will fit (overstuffing is okay, too). Sprinkle both sides of each chop with salt and pepper to taste, then roast in a preheated 400 F oven for 12 minutes. Turn the chops over once and roast an additional 15 minutes. Check for doneness with a meat thermometer. Cook to medium, or 135 to 140 F.

53rd Chicken Chew is almost here!

The Coloma Chicken Chew will be held June 27th, 28th, and 29th in Coloma and as always will be a big event for Waushara County. The event is held in the Coloma Community Park. There is ample parking across the street at McCartney Carpets Warehouse as well as by the ball diamonds. There are rides on the midway all weekend, 50/50 Raffles, a Quilt Show, and rummage sales throughout the Village.

Friday: Softball tournaments start. If you have a team and they are not signed up, please contact Tyler Burrows at 715-323-8702. The Prince of Peace Lutheran Church will be doing their famous fish fry and there will be a full menu of food and drinks under the pavilion. Blame It On Waylon will be taking the stage Friday night for musical entertainment.

Saturday: The day begins with a pancake breakfast. There is a stellar car and truck show you won't want to miss! We also offer Bingo, food, drink, softball, volleyball, and a bag tournament. New this year for Bags is a Swissholio Tournament. There is an outdoor market and the museum will be open featuring the caboose and the refurbished famous red telephone booth. The evening ends with Cherry Pie rocking the stage and the booms of fireworks in the air. Face painting 11 a.m.-5 p.m.

Sunday: The Chicken Chew Parade will be starting at 11 a.m.. The line-up is at the Coloma Elementary School. Followed by the famous chicken dinner, a motorcycle show, an outdoor market, and Bingo. There will be short prayer service at the Prince of Peace Float in front of the Coloma Elementary School at 10:15 a.m. Back by popular demand, are the polkas featuring Steve Burclaw's New Polish Sounds starting after the parade. A Girl's Youth Majors Softball Tournament will be held Sunday as well.

The Chicken Chew has been held for over 50 years! All proceeds are divided between The Lions Club and The Coloma Fire Department. The Coloma Lions Club supports local organizations and school activities as well as international projects such as eye tissue transplants and diabetes education. The Coloma Fire Department funds go to purchase equipment not only for fires, but also for life saving equipment for our community. Money raised eases the burden on the taxpayers. This festival depends upon local volunteers and everyone in the community is encouraged to sign-up to help. Please visit <https://signup.com/go/XtURGbE> to sign up, there are still plenty of opportunities.

For more information about Chicken Chew, visit the Coloma Chicken Chew website: <http://www.colomachickenchew.com>. For vendor information, call Chris @ 715-340-1232. If you have any other questions, feel free to reach out to Sue at 715-228-2622 or call or text Erik at 715-347-0977. Don't be afraid to leave a voicemail and someone will get back to you as soon as possible! See you at the Chew!
