DMHS Board holds last meeting before merger with Baptist Health

BY JEFF McDonald editor@monticellonews.net

The Drew Memorial Health Systems Board of Directors held their November meeting at 12 p.m. on Monday, November 27, at the Monticello Country Club. This would be the final board meeting leading into the December 3 merger with Baptist Health. With all board members present, Chairman Mike Akin called the meeting to order. The board approved the quality and credentials that were presented in the executive session. The board then approved the minutes from the October board meeting.

Moving into the items on the agenda, the board called for an update from Cassie Wise from TruBridge. Wise reported that as of the end of October, was $9.4 million, which is on track with the yearly average which is around $9.42 million. She also reported that there has been an increase in uninsured/self-pay patients. Overall admissions for October was 4,200 which is a little lower than the average of 4,600.

In October, the hospital had $2.3 million in cash collections, which was a little lower than expected, November is trending to reach between $2.6 to $2.7 million. This should help show some reduction in the Accounts Receivable. Medicare is the largest area of concern, due in part to a large backlog of uncoded services.

Wise also reported that over the past two months, the cash collection rate has been around 30 percent. This is likely to improve in November as the number of self-pay patients increases

"Why over the last six months have we seen a monthly increase in our AG to the point that it is a 65 percent increase," Board member Carl Lucky asked. "Why are we not collecting what is on the books? Is it fair for someone who is paving you guys money to not be pleased with a six-month continual growth in this backlog? Regardless of you having people who have left, it is your job to make sure this is being collected on. Since May we are at $600,000 to $700,000 increase in the backlog. Tell me why we shouldn't be upset about that. Why haven't you figured out a way to solve this in the past six months when you can see it increasing every month?"

Wise said that due to staff

A&P Commission pays for Christmas lights; discusses next step for Event Center

BY JEFF MCDONALD editor@monticellonews.net

The Monticello Advertising and Promotions Commission held its monthly meeting at 5 p.m. on Monday, November 27, in the conference room at the Hampton Inn. Commissioners present were Shannon Herman, Kim Patel, Andy Patel, and Mike Wigley. Also present were the A&P Commission's Administrative Assistant, Ryan Copico, and Event Center Planning Committee member, Ron Echols. The meeting opened with the approval of the meeting minutes from October and the approval of the October financial statement. With both being approved, the commission looked at unpaid invoices.

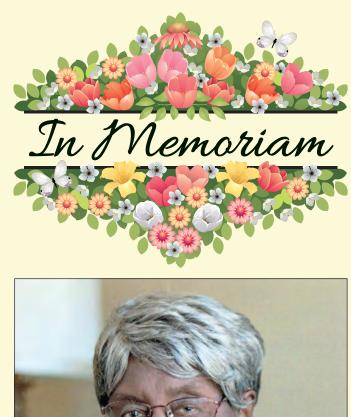

by Ashley Rodermund from the proposed next step for the Event City's Finance Department, and was informed that even though he is considered a part-time employee, because he has worked 80 or more hours for three consecutive months he should be automatically enrolled in the Agency designing, building, and Arkansas Public Employees Retirement System (APERS). Even if Copico's hours were cut, he would still be enrolled. Moving forward, the commission will have to pay $128.60 to APERS per pay period. There was also an expense of $3,725.62, which was back pay to APERS dating back to Copico's hire date. The commissioners agreed to amend the 2024 budget to make the $128.69 available each pay period. Echols then came before the commission to discuss the Event Center Planning Committee's Center Project. Echols presented a project proposal from the Sells Agency out of Little Rock. The proposal was broken down into Phase One and Phase Two.

The commissioners then looked at an item that pertained to their operating budget. Copico stated that he was contacted distributing a survey, via Facebook, that will poll the citizens of Monticello and Drew County to find what they would want in an Event Center, and once the plans are made, if they will be willing to help pay for it through an additional tax or millage. The cost of Phase One is $8,400.

SPECIAL TO THE ADVANCE

In this time of giving and Christmas Spirit, the Monticello Firefighters Association would like to wish you and yours a very Merry Christmas. You might also want to know one of the most important aspects of being a member of Monticello Firefighter Association is giving back to the community we serve. The Monticello Firefighters Association gives back to the local community several different ways. The firefighters coordinate or participate in the following events on an annual basis:

Arkansas Children's Hospital Burn Center - Arkansas Children's Hospital is home to Arkansas' ONLY Burn Program. Founded in 1928, the Burn Program has been providing comprehensive, personal care to adult and pediatric patients. On average, the Burn Program admits over 400 patients a year and sees over 2250 outpatient visits. The Burn Center is a new collaboration for us and we pledge yearly financial support.

MDA Fill The Boot - after several years of hiatus since the pandemic, MFA will be bringing back a local favorite. Since 1954, fire fighters across the country have collected critical funds in the community – one dollar at a time – as part of the Fill the Boot program to raise money for Muscular Dystrophy Association (MDA). The partnership between MDA and the International Association of Fire Fighters (IAFF) began when the IAFF signed a proclamation designating MDA as its charity of choice, vowing to continue raising awareness and funds to ensure effective treatments and therapies are found. The dollars raised through Fill the Boot fund MDA's mission of empowering people living with neuromuscular disease to live longer, more independent lives.

Expenses were under budget by $66,000. The hospital saw a cash decrease of $2.2 million. Approximately $1.3 million of this decrease was due to the hospital making two of the four payments to CERNER in October. Another $286,000 went towards the 401K match for employees. These two items made up the majority of the cash decrease. With no questions for Colwell, the board voted to approve the financial report.

UAM Agriculture Program continues to grow, awarding four scholarships

BY LON TEGELS

College of Forestry, Agriculture and Natural Resources - University of Arkansas at Monticello

Several agriculture students at the University of Arkansas at Monticello's (UAM) Agriculture program were recently awarded scholarships made possible from contributions of its agriculture alumni. Dr. Rocky Lindsey, Associate Professor of Animal Science and Agriculture Program Coordinator, expressed appreciation for the scholarships.

"The financial reward the scholarship recipients receive eases their burdens, rewards their hard work, and gives the student a firsthand perspective of how hard work and dedication pay off," said Dr. Lindsey.

The UAM Agriculture Alumni Society established a total of four scholarships. The first two are named in honor of Professor Emeritus of Agriculture Robert Kirst following his retirement from UAM in 1998. The scholarship is awarded to a full-time student who is a junior or senior majoring in any field of Agriculture at UAM. The recipient(s) must have and maintain a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.0. The recipient(s) must have a strong work ethic, good personality traits, and display excellent professional potential.

This year's Kirst scholarship recipients are Kody Boatright and Parker LaCotts.

Kody Boatright is from Bastrop, La., and is a senior ag business major. Boatright says "What sparked my interest in agriculture is being around animals and seeing how agriculture plays such a big role in everyday life. My goal is to graduate and start working in sales for animal pharmaceuticals. I want to thank everyone on the scholarship committee for giving me this opportunity to get this scholarship to help me finish my degree."

Bryant. They, too, are presented by the UAM Agriculture Alumni Association. This year's recipients are Karissa McGuire and Kiara Jackson; both said they hope to be veterinarians.

Karissa McGuire is from Hope. She is a senior majoring in Animal Science. McGuire said, "Growing up on my family's farm and rodeoing most of my life played a huge role in my interest in agriculture. My grandparents and mom are the ones who helped me have an interest in agriculture; they always let me help on the farm and get involved with various things." After graduating from UAM, McGuire plans to attend vet school and someday have her own farm.

Kiara Jackson is from Dumas; she is a junior Animal Science major. "The environment around Dumas is what sparked my interest in agriculture. From entering to leaving Dumas, you are surrounded by the agricultural scenery. My uncle is the person who led me to agriculture, as he worked for Hill Seed for many years." Jackson plans to attend vet school to become a large- and small-animal vet after obtaining her bachelor's degree. McGuire and Jackson are McGure and Jackson are the first recipients of the Bryant Scholarship, which was announced earlier this year. Initiated by the UAM Agriculture Alumni Society, the scholarship is a tribute to Dr. Bryant's passion for education and his leadership. In a remarkable display of unity and determination, the society raised the necessary funds for the endowment within twelve months. "This was such a group effort made possible by more people than could ever be listed," said Bill Stephens, UAM Agriculture Alumni Board President.

Dr. Michael Blazier, Dean of the UAM College of Forestry, Agriculture and Natural Resources, highlighted the success of the UAM agriculture program.

"We've seen a 13% increase in enrollment in our agriculture program over the past year. That's a testament to the commitment of our agriculture alumni and faculty to putting students on a good path in their careers and lives and the reputation our students continue to build statewide as being well-prepared for a wide array of careers in agriculture."

Small businesses drive our economy

Small Business Saturday is an important holiday tradition for local businesses and neighborhood retailers. This promotion encourages folks to invest in entrepreneurs in their communities by shopping at t homegrown stores during the Christmas season. This is an important step to support small businesses at a time when increasing challenges make it difficult to thrive.

Small businesses are the backbone of America, and capital is the lifeblood of these businesses. Capital is essential when launching operations from the ground up. Without this critical funding, many businesses quickly buckle and break down.

While it's important lenders and investors find creative ways to get more capital to small businesses, it's equally important the federal government removes barriers making it difficult for small businesses to access that capital

IOHN BOOZMAN U.S. SENATE REPORT

This is why Arkansas Congressman French Hill and I introduced the Small Lender Act. True to its name, this legislation addresses concerns about a rule proposed by the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau which, instead of focusing on creditworthiness, would require lenders to solicit social factors from small business borrowers and divulge it to federal bureaucrats in Washington. While discrimination of any form is wrong, this rule would prioritize social factors over creditworthiness in small business lending, place additional red tape on lenders and make it harder for small businesses to access capital.

The proposal would change the traditional process of small business lending, creating a system of winners and losers and restricting capital to those who need it the most. The Small Lender Act would remove this red tape for certain lenders and small business borrowers, making it easier for capital to get to the businesses that depend on it the most.

As I write about the importance of small business capital, entrepreneurship and hard work, I am reminded of my own humble beginnings. My brother and I were inspired to start an eye clinic in Northwest Arkansas, but lacked the necessary funding.

A local banker took a chance on us and granted us access to capital. We became a leading eyecare provider, benefiting not only our clinic but also our community. I take great pride in having helped those in need, and that was made possi-

I guess it gives you something to do, but I think I would rather spend my time unraveling a thinchained necklace than spend my days just griping. So, I ask you, what are you doing to help make keyboards and post comments online about everything that is wrong with this town. Funnily enough, I never see those people at City Council or Quorum Court meetings? I don't see those people running for office or volunteering for Commissions. I only hear them complain.

Monticello a better place? I've seen people be brave and bold behind their

The entire focus needs to shift, and we need to spend less time complaining and more time working toward a solution. If some of these keyboard

Looking ahead to the 2024 General Assembly

As 2024 is approaching we would like to take this time to give Arkansans a look at what is ahead for the General Assembly. Pre-fiscal session budget hearings will begin Wednesday, March 6, 2024. Over the course of the budget hearings, the committee will hear budget requests for all state boards, commissions, Fiscal Sessions are held in February in years in which the primary elections are held in May. The Fiscal Sessions begin in April in years, like this year, in which primary elections are held in March. Amendment 86 states that each Fiscal Session shall not exceed 30 days. The Fiscal Session may be extended one time, however, for no more than 15 days, by a 75 percent vote of both the House and Senate. Arkansas is home to more than 258,000 small businesses employing more than 500,000 people. Help promote growth for these job creators and economic development in our communities by shopping local on Small Business Saturday, throughout the holiday season and all year long.

Each of those small businesses has a compelling story of resilience, growth, and prosperity-a story that echoes through generations, reminding us that the strength of a nation lies in the success of its small businesses.

Looking at Arkansas Lottery numbers

When the jackpot approaches a 2008, it has generated about $1.3 billion dollars a lot of people go out and buy lottery tickets, even though they hardly pay any attention to the lottery.

Those occasions are good news for Arkansas college students, because the state will collect more money than usual for lottery scholarships. For example, ticket sales in September were higher than average for the Arkansas Office of the Lottery. Revenue for the month was $47 million, compared to $43 million in September of 2022.

Lottery officials attribute the spike in sales to a Powerball jackpot of about a billion dollars. It generated interest among people who don't routinely purchase lottery tickets.

Since Arkansas voters approved the lottery in a statewide election in billion for scholarships, and more than 720,000 scholarships have been awarded. Stores that sell tickets have earned $395 million in retailer commissions. Last year the lottery generated

$114.7 million for scholarships. This year it will raise an estimated $110.7 million, but that amount could grow if people are motivated to buy tickets because of enormous jackpots in the Powerball and Mega Millions lotteries. For the first three months of the current fiscal year, the lottery has generated $30.3 million for scholarships.

The Academic Challenge Scholarship is the single largest program financed by sales of lottery tickets, although they also fund other smaller scholarship programs. The annual deadline for applications for Academic Challenge scholarships is July 1.

This year about 27,000 students are receiving the Academic Challenge Scholarship, an increase from year and 30 semester hours in following years. Their freshman year they receive $1,000. In their sophomore and junior years they get $4,000 and their senior year they get $5,000. If a student doesn't need 15 hours to graduate in his or her senior year, Students at two-year colleges receive $1,000 their first year and $3,000 their second year. They can get $1,500 for a fifth or final semester.

The approved institutions are private and publicly supported schools in Arkansas.

Earlier this year the legislature created the Challenge Plus Scholarship Program. To qualify a student has to meet the academic requirements of the Academic Challenge Scholarship, and also demonstrate a financial need. Those students can receive additional awards of $1,000 to $4,000 a year.

According to the web site of the Arkansas Lottery, the odds of winning a Powerball jackpot are one in 292,201,338.

The web site also has hotlines to call if you think you may have a gambling addiction. Here are questions that should raise a red flag: Have you gambled for longer than you had planned? Have you used your savings to gamble? Have you borrowed money to gamble?

If you have a gambling problem you can call 1-800-522-4700.

The constitutional amendment that created lottery scholarship program was not placed on the ballot by the legislature but was initiated by citizens' groups. In the 2008 election it passed overwhelmingly by a vote of 648,122 in favor and 383,467 against.

SENATE REPORT

ARKANSAS

Can you make charitable giving less 'taxing'?

generosity. In addition to considering gifts for your loved ones, you might want to think about charitable gifts as well. But what should you know before making gifts to charities? And what impact might these gifts have on your financial and tax situation?

First, you may want to create a gift budget by deciding just how much you will give to charitable organizations over the rest of the year.

Next, look closely at the groups to whom you wish to contribute. You can find many reputable charities, but some others may be less worthy of your support. One of the red flags of a questionable organization is the amount of money it spends on administrative costs versus the amount that goes to its stated purpose. You can check on the spending patterns of charitable groups, and find other valuable information about them, on the well-regarded Charity Navigator website (charitynavigator. org).

Once you've established a gift budget and are comfortable with the groups you choose to support, you might

Once again, it's the season of turn your thoughts to another kev issue connected with charitable giving: tax benefits. A few years ago, changes in the tax laws resulted in a large increase in the standard deduction, which meant that many taxpayers found it more favorable not to itemize – and lost the ability to take charitable deductions. But if you still do itemize, your charitable gifts or contributions to tax-exempt groups — those that qualify as 501(c)(3) organizations – can generally be deducted, up to 60 percent of your adjusted gross income, although lower limits may apply, depending on the nature of your gift and the organization to which you're contributing.

> Other, more long-term avenues also exist that combine charitable giving with potential tax benefits. One such possibility is a donor-advised fund, which allows you to make an irrevocable charitable contribution and receive an immediate tax deduction. You can give cash, but if you donate appreciated assets, such as stocks, your tax deduction would be the fair market value of the assets, up to 30 percent of your adjusted gross income.

Plus, you would not incur the capital gains tax that would otherwise be due upon the sale of these assets. Once you establish a donor-advised fund, you have the flexibility to make charitable gifts over time, and you can contribute to the fund as often as you like.

Another possible tax benefit from making charitable contributions could arrive when you start taking required minimum distributions, or RMDs, from some of your retirement accounts, such as your traditional IRA and 401(k). These RMDs could be sizable – and distributions are counted as taxable income. But by taking what's called a qualified charitable distribution (QCD), you can move money from a traditional or Roth IRA to a qualified charitable organization, possibly satisfying your RMD, which then may be excluded from your taxable income. You must start taking RMDs at 73 but you can begin making QCDs of up to $100,000 per year as early as age $70^{1/2}$. (This amount will be indexed for inflation after 2023.)

Establishing a donor-advised fund and making qualified charitable distributions are significant moves, so you'll need to consult with your tax advisor first. But if they're appropriate for your situation, they may help you expand your ability to support the charitable groups whose work you admire.

Dr. Kay Walter and Elizabeth Parish win LaNell Compton Award

SPECIAL TO THE ADVANCE

Dr. Kay Walter (pictured on the right) and Elizabeth Parish received the LaNell Compton Award from the Arkansas Library Association (ArLA) for an article titled "Optimizing Connections: Professor/Librarian Collaborations," appearing in the Arkansas Libraries journal Spring-Summer 2023 edition.

First awarded in 1982 in honor of LaNell Compton, editor of Arkansas Libraries from 1949 to 1971, the recognition and $300 prize are given to authors of the best contribution to library literature published in the journal during the past three years, according to Arkansas Libraries editor, Britt Anne Murphy, who presented Walter the award at ArLA's 101 Annual Conference Awards Dinner at the Hot Springs Conventional Center recently.

Parish, formerly Digital Resources Librarian at the Fred. J. Taylor Library and Technology Center at the University of Arkansas at Monticello, and Walter, a professor in the English department at UA Monticello teamed up for "Optimizing Connections: Professor/Librarian Collaborations," highlighting the importance of modelling collaborative, research-based information literacy development as a means of enabling student leadership.

With over 475 members, ArLA works to provide continuing education opportunities for library workers, serves as a source of current information about trends, issues and strategies for all types of libraries and advocates for libraries at the local, state and national levels.

HISTORY MINUTE

Former political giant sees career and influence blown away in duel with Conway

BY KENNETH BRIDGES

Robert Crittenden was once a giant in Arkansas politics. As the first territorial secretary, he laid the foundations for the beginnings of Arkansas government and the establishment of Little Rock as the capital. But he would see all of his gains slip away and die at a young age.

Crittenden was born in central Kentucky, in 1797. His father was a Revolutionary War veteran and former Virginia legislator. At the age of 17 in 1814, Crittenden joined the army in the midst of the War of 1812 and later served in the Seminole War, a series of campaigns that the army waged against the Seminole tribe of Florida.

His older brother, John J. Crittenden, enjoyed a very successful career, serving three terms in the U.S. Senate, one term as Kentucky governor, and as U. S. Attorney General. He also went on to pen the "Crittenden Compromise" in December 1860 as a lastditch effort to prevent the Civil War. In 1819, as the Arkansas Territory was formed, he served in the U.S. Senate and persuaded President James Monroe to appoint his eager younger brother as territorial secretary.

As territorial secretary, Robert Crittenden would be acting as a sort of combination treasurer, lieutenant governor, and secretary of state for Arkansas. The territorial governor, James Miller of New Hampshire, was unimpressed by his Arkansas assignment and took several months to arrive.

However, when Crittenden arrived at the territorial capital at Arkansas Post in March 1819, he immediately became acting governor and began making official appointments and organizing the new government. He also declared that the territory met the population threshold to organize a legislature and called for elec-moved from Arkansas Post to Little Rock, where he owned valuable real estate.

Crittenden County, which encompasses West Memphis, was named for him in 1825. Although he had amassed a great deal of influence at a young age, he was increasingly frustrated by being passed over again and again for the position of governor.

His fall began with the territorial delegate to Congress, Henry W. Conway. Since his 1823 election, Conway found himself at odds with Crittenden, who put forward several candidates to try to defeat him. Crittenden floated rumors that Conway stole federal money meant for Arkansas, which sparked a violent feud. The bitter argument escalated until Crittenden challenged him to a duel.

The two met in Mississippi in 1827. Moments after the shooting began, it was over. Conway lay dying, as did Crittenden's career. The Conway Family immediately organized all their might against destroying Crittenden's influence in Arkansas. With Andrew Jackson's election as president, Crittenden found himself out of office altogether in 1829 as Jackson replaced him with William Fulton as territorial secretary.

He hoped to recover his influence behind the scenes, but he brought only further controversy. In 1831, the federal government offered Arkansas land it could sell to finance a capitol building. Crittenden attempted to persuade the legislature to trade the land for his own mansion. Gov. John Pope refused, and ultimately the land proved to be worth more than four times what his house sold for.

In 1833, he ran in his only election, for territorial delegate against Ambrose Sevier, Conway's cousin, and lost decisively. He continued to work as a lawyer, traveling extensively and dreaming of restoring his political dreams. Weighed down by ill health and disappointments, Crittenden collapsed and died in Vicksburg, Mississippi, in December 1834 at the age of 37.

New Ballot Question Committee to advocate for passage of The Arkansas Reproductive Healthcare Amendment

SPECIAL TO THE ADVANCE

For AR People announces the formation of Arkansans for Limited Government, a ballot question committee (BQC) in support of the Arkansas Reproductive Healthcare Amendment.

Government overreach is killing Arkansas women. The Arkansas Reproductive Healthcare Amendment, a proposed constitutional amendment currently before the Attorney General, would limit government interference in the personal healthcare decisions of Arkansans.

Arkansas is the most dangerous state in the country for pregnant women and girls, with a maternal mortality rate twice the national average.1 Fifty percent of Arkansas counties have limited or no access to maternity care services.2 This is a healthcare emergency for our state; Arkansas's total abortion ban, which prohibits access to lifesaving healthcare for women, has worsened the crisis by preventing doctors from providing necessary care. The Arkansas Reproductive Healthcare Amendment will restore personal liberty, permit doctors to properly care for patients, and make our state safer and healthier for everyone.

"When it comes to personal healthcare, Arkansans know what's best for their families, and the state shouldn't pretend to play 'doctor' or know better," said Hershey Garner, Chair of Arkansan for Limited Government and a spokesperson for the group. "These matters are deeply personal and should be between an individual and their medical provider."

Specifically, The Arkansas Reproductive Healthcare Amendment will prevent the state from restricting access to abortion within 18 weeks of conception, in cases of rape or incest, in the event of a fatal fetal anomaly, or when abortion is needed to protect the pregnant female's life or health.

"Doctors and patients are the only decision-making team needed for families to make healthcare decisions that allow them to flourish in Arkansas," said Jim McHugh, Treasurer for Arkansans for Limited Government. "The influence of politicians in the most personal, and often the most devastating, moments of Arkansans' lives must end."

For more information on Arkansans for Limited Government and how the public can support passage of the Arkansas Reproductive Healthcare Amendment, visit ARliberty.org

Pirate Highlights The timeless tradition of a Thanksgiving feast

Celebrating Thanksgiving comes along with many traditions. One of the traditions celebrated every year at Drew Central Elementary is the kindergarten Thanksgiving lunch. This is when students participate in many activities together and re-enact the first Thanksgiving. The students create costumes to be pilgrims or Native Americans. The students understand what happened that very first Thanksgiving because they have read books, watched videos, and seen finger-puppet plays so that they can understand the time period and the events that lead to the first Thanksgiving feast. Susan Cossey, kindergarten teacher, even sets up an "Indian Village" in her classroom to allow students the opportunity to role play and be able to glimpse into the past.

The students helped make the "pilgrim" vegetable stew, homemade butter, and fruit salad. The students were able to stir the meat as it cooked, make butter, and taste different ingredients that were added to the soup and fruit salad. Some of the other foods served were sliced apples, combread muffins, cranberry sauce, and pumpkin pie.

"The kids' favorite part was making the soup and making their costumes," Hope Caruthers, kindergarten teacher, said.

The feast itself was also a crowd favorite among the students as you could feel the excitement in the air. Cossey's favorite part as a teacher was, "Watch-

The kindergarten Thanksgiving feast is one tradition that will always be remembered and cherished at Drew Central.

DCMS' creative, passionate, and innovative teacher

Henry Shifflett is one of Drew couple grades behind, compared Central Middle School's special to a child with down syndrome education teachers. Shifflett has been teaching special education for about twelve years.

"From me teaching special education for about twelve years I'd say I'm a totally different person than I was twelve years ago," Shifflett said. "Twelve years ago I had just graduated from UAM with my Bachelor's degree. Then I went into a MAT program to take the special education track, to get my Master's degree. I worked at a child development center in Dermott, for a year. After that I worked for the state for about three years. I then came back into public teaching, and worked in Dermott for five years. I moved to Foley, Alabama for about ten months, and I had worked at a middle school there. And I've been back teaching here at Drew Central for about three and a half years."

"Disabilities don't define the children themselves," Shifflett responded when asked what he had learned from teaching special education. "Each child is different. For example, even though a child may have a learning disability with literacy and may be a doesn't change anything for me. Each student learns differently. And I've learned that over the years, because when I first got into special education I was just trying to go by the book and so forth compared to actually learning about the students themselves."

Shifflett is the type of teacher that truly learns about the student so that he can teach them in the way that they learn best. Rapport is a word that is used in education often and Shifflett is the master of that word because he has great relationships with not only his students, but all students in the middle school. Shifflett has several goals for this school year. One is to prepare his eighth grade students for high school next year. Another goal Shifflett has is to help the students who are remaining in middle school to learn as much as they can so they will be better prepared for their next grade level. Shifflett's last goal for the school year is to provide as much fun as he can for his students along the way. Learning should not always be so technical; it should also be fun.

Shifflett is an avid New Orleans Saints football fan. He and his wife love to travel. Shifflett loves all kinds of music and enjoys cooking.

"To me it sometimes relaxes me, and helps me release stress,' Shifflett said.

One thing that is clear to anyone who knows him is, Shifflett loves his family. He has three boys, one girl, and five grandchildren. We hope Shifflett has an amazing school year and reaches his three goals because he is one wonderful and passionate person.

The Holidays bring us together

BY GRACIE DISON

On October 31, Penny Vance and her Child Development class prepared cupcakes and traveled to Monticello High School (MHS) to decorate the cupcakes with the students in Kasey Smith's special education class.

"It was a really nice experience working with Ms. Smith and her students," Jayden Jackson, a student in Vance's class stated. "It brought a new viewpoint upon other people and also made my heart swell with joy. Our class enjoyed every minute of it and we hope her class enjoyed it as well".

Vance's class has been working with Smith's class for ten years now completing different activities together. The classes both gain new skills from working together. Vance's class is working on developing social skills and interacting with others that may have a disability. Smith's class is working on social skills as well as hand-eye coordination and math skills.

The classes met again on November 15, and played bingo. "I think that we are all alike. We all want friendships, love and acceptance just like everyone else. I really enjoyed getting to know these students the past few times we've visited them, all of the students and Ms. Kacie Smith have the sweetest personalities and welcomed us with open arms," said a student in the Child Development class. "I just want to personally thank both Penny Vance and Kacie Smith for the opportunity to make new friends and experience new things."

DCHS' student extraordinaire

BY ANT'WYONE LINCOLN

Drew Central High School has some exceptional students, but one that really stands out is Mekhi Collins. Collins is not only a great student, but a wonderful person. Collins seems to be one of the most universally liked students at the high school.

"Mekhi is always so polite. He greets me every time that he sees me," Stephanie Teel, library media specialist, said. "I don't think I have ever seen him without a smile on his face."

When Collins was interviewed, he talked about how he loves to watch Disney movies and play Super Smash Bros. He particularly likes Disney movies with great songs in them like Let It Go in Frozen.

"I love to read books such as Diary of a Wimpy Kid," Collins stated. "My favorite part of that book is how goofy the characters are."

Collins likes that he is able to laugh with the characters in the book and that the story never disappoints him when reading it.

Collins also likes to watch tv shows on Netflix such as Stranger Things because he loves the design of the creatures that are a large part of the show. Collins really likes the demon-dog which is a supernatural, fictional creature in the show. He is a major dog lover, so he was drawn to that creature as soon as it was introduced on the show. During his spare time Collins likes to play Brawlhalla, which is a computer based video game. When Collins is not playing games, he likes to go outside and find something to do to keep the boredom away. He likes going over to friends' houses to hang out.

Collins' favorite subject to study is math.

"Mekhi is the light that walks into the room," Maggie Brown, high school teacher, said. Collins always has a great attitude and is a joy to have in class. Collins likes completing and taking pride in his school work. Collins likes to hang out with his friends and visit the library during his free time at school.

"Mekhi is the nicest person that I know," Celeste Crouse, senior, said. "He always takes the time to be a good friend and check on me."

Collins is one spectacular person all the way around.

The Christmas season is here! Personally, it's my favorite time of the year. Everything seems warmer and brighter, kid in your class that doesn't and for the most part people seem thrilled about Christmas appear more cheerful. I get to coming? What if you bought see family members I don't get them a gift with no thought to see often, and we even get of getting anything in return? a little downtime to spend at That teacher that seems overhome with our family.

For some though, Christmas isn't as lovely and you might even notice that instead of getting more cheerful they may get grumpier, even Grinchier. Sometimes holidays are hard. Family time can be complicated or even painful to some. Money can be tight. Schedules too full. A loved one may be missing from their celebration this year. The list goes on, but you get my point. In the same way light, our hope, and our future.

"You are the light of the that this can be the most wonderful time of the year, it can also be really difficult for some.

This Christmas season, let's keep that in mind and practice grace for those around us. That stressed or maybe even grumpier than usual, any chance you could ask if you could stay in from recess and help them with something?

Can you share the story of Jesus with someone who doesn't know him?

When Jesus came into this world the people were desperate for hope and a future. Sound kinda familiar? Luckily we have good news! He is our Since we know that, it's our turn to shine our lights so that people will see Jesus through us and our Father in Heaven will get the glory. Who will you be light for today?

Mr. Rauls' business philosophy is short but sweet: "A job done is a job well done."

He attributes his company's success to 'staying with it.' When life is sour or when life gives Mr. Rauls lemons he 'makes lemonade.¹

Melvin says that the greatest obstacle he's had to overcome to make his business a success is not giving up and staying focused when money is low or business is slow.

BARKADA JANA WRIGHT

I hope everyone had a great Thanksgiving. I cooked a big meal for Shawn, Dustin, and me. Later that day, we went to my mother-in-law's to visit. I did not have my Thanksgiving with my side of the family until last Saturday.

I am glad that Nena Thomas got her a new fur baby. Her little dog Petie passed away a few weeks ago. Jerry Word found her a new one online. Her name is Minnie. I am sure she will be loved and spoiled!

Mrs. Wanda Reaves was thankful for the help she had from her friends and neighbors when a small project turned into a big one. She had to replace all the gas lines in her home. Some people brought meals, while others let her store her perishable food, and some even offered lodging. Living in a small community has its perks.

Robbie and Sonya Ryburn hosted their family Thanksgiving at their house this year. Everyone had a great time and good food!

Congratulations to Grayson Carter, son of Bradley and Kelly Carter. He won first place for selling the most cookie dough for MES! Great job!

Debbie Tenario visited with her daughter Kristiana Tenario. The duo did some shopping and fine dining. They had a wonderful time together!

Crystal Wood, Renee McCauley, Tanya Hill, and Emily Zipperer took advantage of some Black Friday sales. Crystal said the trip was a success and a lot of fun!

I had to take my Uncle Robert West to the ER Friday night. He was diagnosed with congestive heart failure. After two days of care, he got to come home.

I pray that Mr. Charles Lanehart is feeling better soon. He had to have a hip replacement a couple of weeks ago. I am sure he will be up and hunting again soon.

Happy anniversary to Mark and Joan Harris. I wish you mas party on Saturday, Decemmany more years of happiness!

Trantham, Nena Thomas, Beverly Burks, Valerie Perry, Keith Lyles, Jason Ballard, and Ginger Castleberry. I hope you all have or had wonderful birthdays!

Please email wrightwoman_66@yahoo.com or call 870.224.3383 with any news you may have. No news is too small!

GREEN HILL WANDA PACE

Greenhill Baptist Church enjoyed a wonderful Sunday morning service. Bro. Caleb's message "A Blood Covenant" was from Hebrews 9:1-14. There was also a special prayer for Ms. Sandy Smith. On December 10, 2023 at 6:30 p.m. the men's Christmas fellowship will be held at the home of Keith Pace. Mark your calendars for the Christmas candlelight service at the church on December 24, 2023 at 7 p.m.

I missed the deadline for last week's news, but I hope everyone had a Happy Thanksgiving. We are blessed and have a lot to be thankful for, especially faith, family, and freedom.

Aunt May and Aunt Pepe cooked a nice Thanksgiving lunch and visited with Harry Pace on the phone.

The National Singing Convention was a great success. If you would like a cookbook please contact Gay Young.

Roger Pace spent a few days in Drew Memorial Hospital. I am happy to report he is doing better.

Ms. Sandy Smith would like to say a special Thank You to everyone who has called, visited, and helped her during this time. Thanks to Tom and Jeff for helping her move some furniture. Please continue to keep her in your prayers.

My brother, Jeff and his daughter, Juliet spent some time with me last week. I sure enjoyed their visit.

Please keep Leighanne Tucker in your prayers. She had eye surgery last week.

The Extension Homemakers Club will have our 2023 Christber 2nd from 2-4 p.m. at the Rose Hill Baptist Church. If you are interested in joining our club or just visiting please join us. Last week's column (arrived too late for early holiday deadlines):

Hello readers, I'm grateful and thankful to have seen another day!

Sunday Services were held at Promise Land Baptist Church Lacey. We were blessed with a wonderful Sunday school lesson; the subject was "Live as You Were Taught", background scripture was Colossians 2:6-23. The lesson was taught by Pastor Johnson; we had a nice crowd and the lesson was enjoyed by all. Pastor's mother, gave an inspiring message. Her scripture was 1 Kings 3:3-5 and her thought was, "God Has What You Need, Just ask for It". Our guests were Mrs. Ephraim Franklin, her granddaughter and her friend as well as Minster Edgar Spencer and Bro. Darrion Spencer.

Prayers for the sick and shutin: Angelia Childress, Regina Junior, Al Slater and Ms. Mary Moore. Our sympathy and prayers to those families that have lost loved ones.

Our grandson, Camryn Jones is one of the newest members of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity Inc.; we are so proud of him. Julie Lambert and I chatted last week she hasn't been feeling well. Joe L. Jones, the last time I heard, he was in a hospital in Little Rock. I stopped by to wish my sisterin-law, Mary Franklin a happy birthday but she wasn't home. I was happy to see my niece.

Happy Belated Birthday wishes to: Toney Franklin, November 7, and Jeanie Ray Douglas, November 8.

Happy Birthday wishes to: Patrick Miller, November 18; Mary Franklin, November 19; Lintell Hardin, November 21; Roger Franklin, November 25; Glen Hardin, November 26; Aline Riley, November 27; Vera Doss, November 27; and Rachel Junior, November 30. I hope each of you enjoys your special day.

Happy Thanksgiving to everyone! Enjoy the day and don't eat to much...have a great week. This week's column:

Hello readers, I hope everyone had a blessed and safe Thanksgiving Holiday! Our family was grateful and thankful to spend the holiday together. Regena came down on Wednesday, and Yolanda, Rick and Camryn came down early Thursday morning. My sister Patricia joined us for Thanksgiving dinner. We enjoyed lots of good food and fun! It's been a little cold this week I hope everyone is staying warm. I enjoyed services at Mount Olive A.M.E Church this past Sunday. The Sunday school topic was "Liberty Not License"; focus scripture was from 1 Corinthians 10:23-11:1 the key verse was 1 Corinthians 10:23b (NRSV) "All things are lawful, but not all things are beneficial. "All things are lawful," but not all things build up". It was a great lesson taught by Bro.Darron Spencer. Minster Edgar Spencer blessed us with an inspiring sermon; his scripture was from Matthew 8:1-4 and his thought was "He Touched Me". Visitors were Donny Johnson of Dallas Texas, William Grays of Crossett and Bro. Fredrick Hardin.

Prayers for those who are sick and shut-in. Prayers and sympa-

Thought for the week: "Grat- thy to the family of Mrs. Jeanette Martin Landsdale, Mrs. Inez Butler Lindsey, Mrs. Ola Trotter Simmons and others that have lost a loved one. You are all in my thoughts and prayers

> Congratulations to Minister Edgar Spencer he was appointed to be the A.M.E Sunday School superintendent for the Crossett District.

> Regena, Yolanda and I chatted with Monica and her friend Jennifer Saturday. I was so happy to see her. I received calls from Lisa Williams of Florida, Julia Lambert of Portland, Oregon and Matilda Jordan on Thanksgiving.

Happy Birthday wishes to: Mia A. Spencer, December 2; Earnest Smith, December 2; Anita Lambert, December 3; Demetria Lambert, December 6; Bridgett Harris, December 7; Ann Shaver, December 8; Jerry Smith, December 8; Erica Rochelle, December 9; and Anthony Foster, December 11. I hope each of you enjoys your special day.

Thought for the week: "Things in the pass should be left in the pass otherwise it can destroy your future. Live your life for what tomorrow has to offer not for what yesterday has taken. (Author Unknown)

A beautiful exchange

Black Friday shopping has come and gone. Thanks to online shopping and early bargains most people don't have to get up in the middle of the night to get to a store and fight the crowds at the crack of dawn. I personally have never braved an early morning Black Friday sale but I've heard they are lots of fun. (Insert sarcasm)

The Friday after Thanksgiving has been called "black Friday" due to the fact that many retailers will count on this day to get their books back in the "black". Due to having to spend money on merchandise all year and then finally having the sales to actually make a profit and gets them out of the "red" and into the "black". It's the busiest shopping day of the year.

The irony is that despite all the work of fighting the crowds and the stores doing all they can to get you to shop, the second busiest day for many retailer is the day after Christmas. This is when the majority of returns and exchanges happen. When you return the sweater that Aunt Susie bought you because it was ugly and two sizes too big. You take it back to the store and exchange it for what you actually need. Typically you exchange the item for equal value. And if there is an overage, you pay the difference.

In the book of Isaiah, the prophet is describing a different type of exchange. He's describing the coming Messiah, Jesus Christ. He prophesies what He's going to do and how He's going to do it.

too late for early holiday deadlines):

Welcome back and Happy Thanksgiving week to you all! And Happy Birthday week to me! I remember being told I was born before the enactment of the fourth Thursday of November Thanksgivings. But apparently that wasn't so. The year I was born, Thanksgiving was November 22nd. I was born on the 21st. I Googled this and, sure enough, President Eisenhower had made that proclamation. I also noted that the fourth Thursday of November Thanksgivings began in 1941.

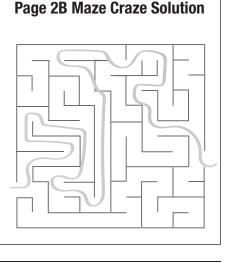

This week I've been volunteering at Shady Grove MBC. They are an official drop-off location for Operation Christmas Child shoeboxes. Monday was a very busy day, and this ol' gal worked harder than she had in awhile. We not only help unload the boxes from what ever conveyance they arrive in, we then count them and relocate them to the church's auditorium. So we probably handled each box three to four times. That evening I was feeling some muscle aches I'd not felt in quite some time. I didn't work Tuesday. When I returned on Wednesday I told them I could not do all that lifting and moving again Thankfully, I was able to help in other ways. Plus, it was a slow day. Operation Christmas Child/Samaritan's Purse is a worthy organization. And as Acts 1:8 states, "But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost parts of the earth." OCC is local churches and individuals working together to spread the Great Commission to all parts of the world. To reach the lost for Christ. I like to say that the shoebox recipient child not only receives Joy in the box, but also an opportunity for Jesus in each box. That's what it's all about. Please, pray that end result will be accomplished. I volunteered for Thursday and Saturday. I'm not sure yet if I'll work Monday, which is the last day for boxes to get dropped off. Whether I do or not and even if I've been sore and tired each day, I've enjoyed every minute of it. I hope to be able to help again next year.

The garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness; That they may be called trees of righteousness, The planting of the Lord, that He may be glorified." Isaiah 61:3

There is no exchange policy on Earth like this. When we fully put our faith and trust in Jesus Christ we give Him all that is broken, all our faults and failures and in return He gives us life and life abundantly. It certainly not an even exchange. We get the best part of the deal. So if you are carrying the ashes of grief, mourning and a spirit of heaviness look to Jesus today.

grandbabies. I've had theirs done for awhile now. And they're the most important ones anyway, right?

Golly, it's been so long since I sent in last week's column, because of the holiday deadline, that I almost forgot to send in the one for this week. Not much to relate the week anyway. Because of all the deer hunter traffic, I haven't been walking much. Plus, we went up to Meghann and Tim's for Thanksgiving for a couple of days. Tim smoked a couple of turkey breasts and, of course, we had mashed taters with all the fixins. Rick loves the infamous green bean casserole so I made one for the first time this year. I think I recall Momma having made them and I've seen them served at holidays in the past. I just never wanted to eat any. But this year I made one and had to try it. It wasn't half bad. After it was all said and done, we had entirely too much food for four people. The best part was prepping and cooking the meal together and just being together. Before Rick and I left, Tim got out the Christmas tree and I helped Meghann decorate. Kind of got me in the Christmas mood. I realize there are some who have had trees up for a month or more. I just like to wait until Thanksgiving is over to start decorating. Bethel enjoyed a wonderful service this week. Bro. Mike Stroh filled the pulpit this week, Bro. Stroh presented a very timely message about how what is happening in Israel is predicted in the Bible. He read several passages of scripture from Genesis chapters 12, 14, 15, 16, 17 and 21, Then others from Joel 3:1-2, Amos 9:14, 15 and Ezekiel 38:1-2. Get your Bible out and read them. Quite eye-opening. As Bro. Stroh said, If you don't know Jesus yet. Now's the time to. We've had some rude awakenings from the resident skunk over the past week or so. Last night being the most recent. I love wildlife and I realize they're just doing what comes naturally, but I sure wish they'd do it somewhere else. Pee Yew! Jason and his family spent Thanksgiving in Branson with Leigh's Mom, brother and sister-in-law. I went over to see them after church Sunday night. Addie was full of stories relating the wonderful time they had. She'll be talking about this trip for a long time to come.

Here's some Thanksgiving dinner corny jokes: Why did the cranberries turn red? They saw the turkey dressing!

What do you get when you cross a turkey with an octopus? Enough drumsticks for Thanksgiving! Why did the farmer run a steamroller over his potato crop on Thanksgiving Day? He wanted to raise mashed potatoes!

Because of the holiday next week, I have to send my column in early. And since I'm famous for missing the deadlines, I'm sending it in on Thursday evening since the deadline is noon on Friday.

That's my column for this week. I hope and pray each of you get to spend some time with loved ones over the holiday. If not, I'm sure there are folks in nursing homes or hospitals needing some company.

Until next time, please, be safe, be happy and be thankful to God for His many blessings.

This week's column:

Hello, and welcome back, y'all! Can you believe that Christmas is less than a month away? I've done pretty good this year at getting gifts ordered on time. I'm pretty notorious at procrastinating when it comes to buying gifts. Except for the Corny joke time: What do you get when you cross a snowman with a vampire? Frostbite!

Speaking of frostbite, there sure was a big frost this morning. Not much hunting traffic today. So I just might bundle up and go for a walk after it warms up a bit.

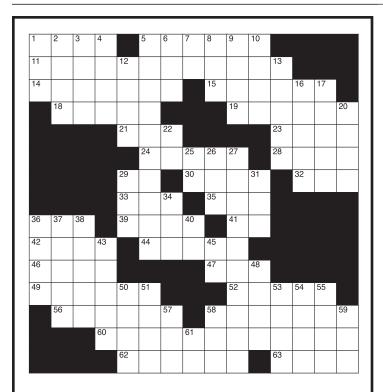

Sunday afternoon I dragged out all the Christmas decorations and started decking the halls. After Christmas last year I bought a small 4 ft. tree. I put it up outside on the porch so it could be seen better by passersby. We really don't have room inside for one. I have a ceramic tree that I use inside along with my special nativity scene. In years past I've put up a blow mold nativity scene outside. But it has really seen better days. So, I ordered a new one and hope to have it before next weekend. I'll get the outdoor lights out today and see if I can get them put up before dark. Tis the season.

I'd like to invite you all to attend Bethel's Christmas program, which will be presented on Christmas Eve morning at 10 a.m. Our youth and their leaders have really been working hard to get it pulled together. I hope you can join us to celebrate the greatest gift of all. Jesus Christ.

That's all I've got this week. Please, be

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
