My time as a caterpillar has expired. Wings are ready, and I am flying.

High school has been a journey of metamorphosis for me, filled with lessons both in and out of the classroom. Each challenge and triumph have shaped the wings with which I now take flight.

I extend my deepest gratitude to my parents, my unwavering pillars of support. Their wisdom and love have illuminated my path, guiding me towards becoming the best version of myself.

As I embark on this new chapter, I am inspired to traverse the nation, much like a butterfly exploring vast gardens, in search of the right path. This journey is not just about finding a profession; it is about discovering where I can make the most meaningful impact, contributing to a happier, more vibrant future. Armed with the knowledge, skills, and values nurtured over these formative years, I carry with me the dreams of making a difference in the world. The journey continues, with the sky as my limitless canvas, as I soar towards new horizons, embracing the challenges and opportunities that await with open wings and an eager heart.

Some of his favorite memories from high school are hanging out with his friends, volunteering at fire station, and engaging the crowds at home sporting events.

His advice to underclassmen would be have fun and be yourself. Devon would like to be remembered for his outgoing personality.

Elizabeth Barto

During high school, she participated in many different activities including cross country and band all four years, along with jazz band, basketball, softball, bowling, track, and NHS. She has also worked a part time job at Chick-Fil-A for two years.

Elizabeth will be attending South Dakota State University in the fall, and she will be majoring in biology.

Her advice to underclassmen would have to be: "No matter what situation God puts you in throughout your life, He will always have a bigger plan for you in the end. He will be with you throughout these circumstances, no matter how good or bad they seem."

Elizabeth would like to be remembered for her relatability and easygoing personality.

She hopes she was able to put a smile on many of her peers' faces.

One of his most memorable experiences during high school was playing with the SB-L basketball team at the Target Center in Minneapolis.

Among his favorite things are spending time with his family and playing sports.

Emiliano plans to attend Iowa State University and plans to study Engineering.

One piece of advice he has for underclassmen is to learn to enjoy the present moment and not focus on the future as you will never get these 4 years back.

"Your certification is in your degree. You may think of it as the ticket to the good life. Let me ask you to think of an alternative. Think of it as your ticket to change the world."

Ryan Hoffman

Ryan Hoffman played football, basketball, and track during his four years at Sergeant Bluff-Luton. He also was involved in the National Honor Society where he served as the treasurer. He plans on attending South Dakota State where he will pursue a degree in either Aviation or Construction Management with a minor in marketing. He enjoyed all the memories he has experienced at Sergeant Bluff-Luton and will miss the post-game apple bees with his teammates.

Hannah Peterson

Hannah Peterson was born and raised in Sioux City and she has been enrolled at SB-L since preschool. Her parents are Stacy and Todd Peterson and she has a younger brother, Brody. Hannah has participated in volleyball her freshmen through junior years, golf her freshmen year, the National Honor Society her junior and senior year, student council her senior year, and environmental club her junior and senior years, she is the president of Environmental Club.

She earned money and saved for college by working at Buff City Soap for almost two years, and she also babysits multiple families. The most memorable experience in high school that Hannah has had was when she made the National Honor Society, she was over the moon. She loves sitting outside in the summer and reading. She also loves hanging out with her friends. Hannah's one piece of advice would be to try your best your freshmen year, it really counts! Hannah has also dreamed of becoming a speech-language pathologist, so she is going to attend WIT to achieve more of her GenEds, and then transfer them to USD to earn her bachelors and masters degrees. She also hopes to move to Texas in the future, and start her own private practice. Hannah has really enjoyed her time at Sb-L, and she hopes others will too!

*"When we show up, act boldly, and practice the best ways to be wrong, we fail forward.
No matter where we end up, we've grown from where we began."*

He also played basketball his freshman year. Clark was selected for National Honor Society as a sophomore and served as NHS secretary during his senior year.

In his free time, Clark enjoys going to the gym, spending time with his family, and traveling. He looks forward to exploring Costa Rica and Panama with SB-L's Spanish classes this summer.

Some of Clark's most memorable high school experiences include cheering in the student section during Friday night lights, going to various state tournament games, and being elected president of all the fall semester Government classes.

Clark would like to be remembered for being a good friend, having a positive attitude, and giving his best to the things that are important to him. His advice to underclassmen? Live life to the fullest, and don't be afraid to take chances.

Following graduation, Clark will attend the University of Iowa with a major in human physiology. He is considering a career in dentistry, optometry, or another health-related field.

Scott Dickson

Scott Dickson was born in Sioux City. After his time at Morningside Lutheran preschool, he started kindergarten at Sergeant Bluff-Luton and has been there ever since. His parents are Justin and Kristy and he has one older brother named JD.

Scott participated in baseball for two years and football, basketball, and soccer all four years. He is a member of the National Honor Society and serves on the Student Advisory Committee for the Iowa High School Athletic Association.

Most of his memories from high school revolve around athletics. Two of his favorites include when the soccer team went to State his freshman year and when the basketball team played in the Target Center his junior year.

Next fall, Scott plans to play football and major in biology at the University of Sioux Falls. His advice to underclassmen is to participate in as many things as they can.

Scott would like to be remembered as someone who could get along with everybody.

Taylor Prosser

Taylor Prosser was born in Sioux City, and raised in Sergeant Bluff since her Kindergarten year. Her parents are Michael and Nikki Prosser and she has a twin sister named Ashlyn.

Throughout high school she has been involved in volleyball, basketball, track, cross country, and some other clubs along the way.

She worked to save some money for college by working at the local Hawks Coffee Shops, as well as refereed some little league volleyball in her extra free time.

Some of her favorite memories of high school was just being involved in all of her sports, participating in the student sections with all of her friends, being on Homecoming court her senior year, and making it to state volleyball, basketball, and track all during her sophomore year.

Taylor will be attending the University of South Dakota in the fall and will be majoring in Elementary Education. She has wanted to be a teacher ever since she was young.

Her advice to any underclassmen is "Make the most of your high school experience because it truly goes faster than you think it will. Get involved in as much as you can, while still prioritizing your time."

Cassidy Craig

Cassidy Craig is the son of Marla Beer-man and the grandson of Jeanne Bartels.

While in high school Cassidy participated in wrestling, football, track and field, and cross country.

His greatest high school memory was being part of the wrestling team. He has appreciated Mr. Clint Koedem and how much he helped him. He remembers going 17-2 during the off season at a wrestling camp at the University of Nebraska. Cassidy was a State qualifier in his senior year.

Cassidy's advice to underclassmen is not to put off getting things done. Cassidy's plans for the future is to go to Iowa Lakes Community College. He hopes to wrestle in college.

Kamea Van Kalsbeek

Kamea Van Kalsbeek grew up in the Sioux City area and attended school at East until she realized that SBL was the better orange and black school. She made the switch in third grade and competed heartily against East in sports ever since. Her parents are B.J. and Manda Van Kalsbek, and her siblings include Brody, Trey, and Yani.

All four years of high school, Kamea played basketball, softball, volleyball, and played percussion in the band. Her freshman year, she was a little more adventurous with choir and track as well, but she quickly realized one cannot do it all. However, the National Honor Society accepted her as a member during her junior year, and she led several projects serving her community. She also attended Wednesday night church since 3rd grade and grew up with a supporting group of loving girls in a great Christian community. In school, she enjoyed her STEM classes and appreciated the support from several amazing teachers as well as the fun had with her classmates, especially with the little advanced group.

To save up for college, Kamea was a youth volleyball ref, Hawks barista, and will work as a CNA over the summer. Her future plans are to attend Northwestern College for biology/pre-med while playing basketball and participating in the honors and leadership programs. The end goal for her at the moment is to become a Pediatric Intensivist!

Looking back, her favorite high school memories include competitive sports wins and the state appearances for volleyball and basketball, the Kansas City/Worlds of Fun Trip for band, collaborative triumphs over difficult topics at school, and all the little fun moments with friends in so many different places.

Her advice for underclassmen is: "Go and do everything you want to do! Your interests and abilities are not determined by anybody else. Break the mold with your love and passion and show them what you are capable of."

Sairam Sundaram

Sairam Sundaram has a fondness for running XC/track, playing pickup basketball, and singing. One thing he wants incoming freshmen to know is to go out for as many things as possible in their freshmen year, whether that is in the arts, clubs or sports. Then figure out which you like and stay dedicated to it for all four years; it really is worth it by the time senior year rolls up, even in those times when you lose a little interest.

Through thick and through thin, he is grateful for the many tough, but meaningful lessons he's learned from his teachers.

Special thanks to Mr. Joe Hardy.

His favorite moment is rapping the "Ram Raps" to hype up the cross country team in the pre-race pep circles.

When he stepped foot into high school his goal for each year was to be bigger and better than the previous year. Likewise, finding ways to offer new ideas to any group he was part of has been a revolving point over his four years. He is looking to a bright future and surely will apply high school for a higher purpose. Radhe Krishna.

Kellen Sweum

Kellen Swuem was born and raised in Sioux City, Iowa. His parents are Amanda Debacker and Mike Sweum and he has two brothers, Tristan and Hayden, and one sister, Amber.

Over his years at SB-L High School he has participated in cross country, football, and soccer.

Kellen worked to save money for his college and future by doing landscaping and working at the Warrior Hotel. Also, in the winter he removed snow.

Some of his favorite memories of high school were being chosen as a soccer team captain as a junior, and all the memories through cross country seasons. Kellen is not sure where he will be attending college in the fall and has not decided on what he will be studying.

His advice to underclassmen is: "Show up on time every day".

Kellen would like to be remembered for, "His drive and will to succeed."
