17th SAN TAN VALLEY BBQ TO BE HELD SATURDAY, MAY 4, 2024

April 24, 2024. San Tan Valley, Arizona. The San Tan Valley BBQ will be held for this spring on Saturday, May 4, 2024, at a new location, 2400 Magma Road, San Tan Valley, AZ 85143, from 4 until 8 p.m.

This season's San Tan Valley BBQ, hosted by Neal Carter, will transpire at a new location this spring, since the attendance has outgrown the original 4-acre parcel previously used for it during the last sixteen BBQs. The move is in response to the wild success of the event, which is widely anticipated in San Tan Valley as the unincorporated community's only municipal event. The exact address is 2400 Magma Road, San Tan Valley, Arizona, 85143. "We've moved the event onto a large parcel of State Trust Land, not far from the original venue, which the Arizona Land Department has been so kind to issue us a permit for," the event's organizer, Neal Carter said. "What we lose in the beautiful San Tan Mountains setting we make up for in easier event access and larger space for parking and tables."

Attendance is always free and hamburgers, hot dogs, sodas and beer are available, all free of charge. The event makes a great occasion for neighbors to get out, meet each other, and catch up in a casual setting.

Past San Tan Valley BBQs have featured notable area personalities such as Sheriff Mark Lamb, County Supervisor Mike Goodman, and plenty of local neighbors. "It's a great way for an unincorporated community like San Tan Valley to get together, meet neighbors, and celebrate," Nick Myers, a regular attendee, says. The event also offers a good opportunity to interact with neighbors, community leaders, and elected officials in an informal, get-together setting. This spring's cooks include students from Central Arizona College's culinary arts program.
